'Operation Yellowhead' Slated for August 15

Date was set yesterday for "Operation Yellowhead" venture on wheels designed to convince all and sundry that the northern route is the only route for the Trans-Canada Highway.

Motorcades from Edmonton and Kamloops will "rendezvous" at Jasper August 15, the combined forces of highway pioneers pushing west over the Rockies to Vancouver.

The date was set yesterday at a general committee meeting of Trans-Canada Highway Association, Edmonton branch.

FAVORABLE RECEPTION

Committee heard a report by Bruce Smith, chairman of the delegation which went to Ottawa to press for consideration of Yellowhead route.

Mr. Smith reported committee's reception in the capital as "favorable." He said that several cabinet ministers hearing the brief saw merit in the northern route.

Mayor Harry Ainlay, association president, moved that the brief be forwarded to a Royal Commission that economic advantages of the route could be investigated and confirmed.

OILING PRESSED

G. J. Keltie was concerned with oiling of 156 miles of Yellowhead highway, from the end of pavement to Jasper.

Committee named Mr. Keltie chairman of a delegation to approach Alberta government on the oiling question. Other delegation members are Reginald Easton and William Haweriak.

SHORTEST ROMANCE SHRIVELS

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 21.—(AP)—Pending in circuit court here is a divorce suit which may end one of the shortest romances on record.

Lawyer G. W. Chamlee said the principals met at 8 o'clock one night. At 8:30 they went across the state line and were married in Georgia.

The marriage ended at 9 p.m., the attorney said, when the husband walked out after quarelling with his wife.

City Alarmed By Molesting

Reports are flooding into police headquarters as an alarmed public seek to assist police in tracking down the criminal who last week raped an eight-year-old girl and molested another.

Detectives Dick Arcand and Herb Graham, of the morality squad, assisted by detectives of the criminal investigation department, are probing the case.

They are following up more than a dozen leads.

More than half a dozen suspects have been rounded up.

"We are not going to lie down on this case, no matter how long it takes," said Detective Sergeant W. A. Smith, head of the morality department.

"It is an extremely difficult case, however," he said. "Even if we pick up the right man it is not easy to prove our suspicions."

Police are also hampered by the hazy descriptions of the man given by the little girls.

Archbishop's Arrest Hinted

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 21.—(AP)—Government controlled newspapers gave a hint today that the next step in the Communist regime's war against the Roman Catholic Church may be the arrest and prosecution of Archbishop Joseph Beran as an enemy of the state.

The newspaper said the church hierarchy was guilty of terrorist tactics which are "against the law and punishable."

In addition, permits have been issued for an $18,000 oil company machine shop, improvements to entrances and interior of North West Brewery worth $19,000 and a Cosmopolitan Club-Boy Scout meeting hall valued at $5,000.

Morris Tougas of 11206 100 ave., will construct a 15-suite apartment block of frame-stucco materials at 10015 111 street, costing an estimated $65,000.

F. H. MacDonald is the architect.

Edmonton Oil Tool Co. Ltd. will erect a quonset-type machine shop at 10103 50 avenue, costing $18,000.

The Boy Scout hall will be located at 10050 121 street.

Probs Still Say No Rain

Parched grainfields and forest fires will have no relief today as the forecast continues to read "No rain" and the temperature promises to reach 80.

Calgary had a thunderstorm yesterday with .02 of an inch of rain. Otherwise there has been no measurable rain anywhere in the prairies for the past 24 hours.

Forecast is clear, becoming cloudy this afternoon. Light winds will become northwest 15 this evening.

Today's forecast of 80 is the third highest struck this month. On June 5 the temperature read 89 and on June 10, 82 above.

Average maximum temperature for June is 72.

Italy Police Fight Striking Farmers

ROME, June 21.—(CP)—Battles between striking farm workers and Carabinieri were reported yesterday in north Italy. Six strikers and one Carabinieri were wounded. In the south early harvest crops were threatened by farmhands still on strike after five weeks for a national wage scale.

Crash Victim Still Critical

Condition of William Bloor, Edmonton barrister injured in a train-car collision yesterday, is still critical.

Hospital authorities revealed this morning he is suffering multiple fractures of the jaw, collar bone, laceration of the right arm, chest injuries and shock. Shock, it was stated, is the most serious factor.

Killed in the accident was Walter C. Hough, Ponoka farmer.

Auditorium Site Again Is Delayed

Council Setting Up Committee For Further Study

Site for Edmonton's proposed civic auditorium is still undecided although a full-roster of city council talked about it for one hour and 15 minutes last night.

Special meeting of council voted, on motion of Ald. Sidney Parsons, to give the matter additional study after hearing chairman T. D. Baker of the Citizen's Auditorium Committee, speak in support of an early decision on a site in the civic centre area.

13-MEMBER GROUP

By terms of Ald. Parson's motion a 13-member committee of three Civic Auditorium members, three members of council, three from Town Planning Commission, City Architect Max Dewar and city commissioners will study maps of the civic centre area and attempt to reach a decision after settling location of other buildings proposed in the centre.

The motion recommended that "reasonable haste" be made in arriving at a decision.

City Renews Mayfair Lease

Mayfair Golf and Country Club members can go ahead and build their $35,000 locker room and not be worried about the city evicting them in the near future.

City council last night approved a new lease on the course and properties for 20 years without a former three-year notice-of-expiry clause being operative.

The club will proceed with locker room and other improvements. They will also make the city a party to insurance policies and allow drilling for oil on the course if the city so decides.

The city will pay $100,000 to the club, if and when it decides to repossess the property, instead of $50,000.

City Air Pix Are Albumed

Hundreds of aerial photographs of Edmonton taken last May are now being compiled in album form under the direction of City Development Engineer A. W. Haddow.

Entire city area and one mile beyond the city's perimiter was photographed by Arctic Air Lines planes under the direction of Leigh Brintnell.

This is the fourth photographic survey made since Oct. 1929, when the late Paul Calder carried out the first assignment.

Photographs are of great assistance to the development engineer in planning projects, as they indicate positions of all buildings, type of terrain and drainage situation in any district.

Destitute Accused Get Free Counsel

REGINA, June 21.—(CP)—The Saskatchewan government has made arrangements to provide counsel for accused persons who satisfy the trial judge they are unable to pay counsel themselves, Attorney-General J. W. Corman announced today.

The practice in the past has been to provide counsel only in murder cases, Mr. Corman said, but it now is being extended to cover all criminal cases.

EXPERT HAS SOLUTION

Rainmaker Says Prayer Best Way to Get Rain

By LEO TURNER

NEW YORK, June 21.—(UP)—It's so dry in New York they've quit printing rain checks on baseball tickets.

It's so dry the bartenders have stopped filling beer glasses at the taps, but carry the barrels to the customers' glasses to cut down on the evaporation.

"It's so dry, even the rainmakers . . .

But let's get on with the story. It hasn't rained for 26 days in New York. It's the worst spring drought in 41 years. The weatherman says there's no rain in sight.

The farmers are hauling water to keep their cauliflower from drooping like cauliflower ears.

The man to solve the problem seemed to be Dr. Vincent Shaefer, the General Electric Company's famous rain maker.

"The reason you haven't had any rain is that it's too dry up there."

What he meant, he said, was that there seemed to be a layer of dry air hanging over the drought-stricken eastern seaboard, between 9,000 and 10,000 feet.

"When little would-be clouds drift into that strata of dry air, they disappear."

Dehydrate?

"Evaporate," he said.

Could he come over and produce a little man-made rain with some dry ice sprinkled in the atmosphere?

"You can't get something from nothing," he said. "You have to have clouds to get artificial rain."

What's the best thing a fellow can do in a drought area?

"Pray for rain," he said.

CAREER GIRL TRAM DRIVER IRKS MATE

BLACKPOOL, England, June 21.—(AP)—William Brindle wants his wife to quit conducting her streetcar and come on home to do the cooking.

Saturday, he was put on probation because he stopped traffic along the seafront by telling his troubles to a crowd he assembled on his wife's route.

Sunday he burned the skirt to her conductor's uniform and hid the jacket. The wife, Violet, went to work in a green smock.

Brindle cooked his own dinner—and burned the pie.

"I'll get Violet back home if it's the last thing I do," Brindle growled.

"The trams are my career," snapped Violet. "I shall go on, whatever happens."

New Forest Fires Out of Control

Another rainless day in Alberta parched already burning-crops and increased the fire threat in tinder dry forests.

Four new fires broke out in Northern Bushland overnight, and all are out of control.

Most serious of the new blazes is at Swan River, south of Lesser Slave Lake, near where the worst fires in Alberta's history occurred during May.

USE BULLDOZERS

A crew of 20 men using two bulldozers are attempting to check the flames.

About 100 miles south west of Edmonton near Brazeau on the west side of the Saskatchewan river, lightning started another fire which is out of control. Crews have been sent to the area but have not yet reported.

In the Lac la Biche district, badly hit last month by fires, two new blazes have broken out. One is

DOG BITES DOG

Canine Tiff Prompts Plea For Killing

Old refrain of "Dog Eat Dog" was brought to the fore yesterday when the small cocker spaniel of a Jasper Place man was severely chewed by a malevolent mongrel.

W. A. Staufferd, 14628 Summit Drive, told police he was walking his pet in the playground when the hard-hitting, hard-living dog leaped on his without warning and with fangs bared.

Not only was the little cocker severely mauled, but owner Staufferd suffered gashes on his left hand when the mongrel apparently decided he would try "Dog Eat Man" for variety.

Requesting that the attacker be destroyed, Staufferd said the big dog had attacked others and furthermore is "uncollared, unchained, unlicensed and definitely uncontrolled."

Alberta Pilots To Thrill Crowds

OTTAWA, June 21.—(CP)—Five jet Vampires from St. Hubert airport, Montreal, will put on a special display at the air show at Brantford, Ont., Saturday, the air force announced today.

Among the pilots, all veterans of the Second World War with enemy aircraft to their credit, are FH-LT. D. C. (Don) Laubman of Provost, Alta., and FH-LT. R. D. (Joe) Schults of Bashaw, Alta.

Hotel Clerk Brutally Slain

CALGARY, June 21.—(CP)—Discovery today of the battered body of Thomas Elliott, about 60, in the dimly-lit basement of the downtown hotel where he was employed as night clerk has touched off a widespread search by Calgary police for his brutal slayer.

The elderly clerk's skull was crushed from repeated blows by an assailant wielding a blunt instrument. Police said they found an 18-inch length of pipe near the body.

Motive of the crime has not been established. Police reported that a sum of money was reported missing from a strong box in the front office of the hotel but it is not known if there is any connection between the slaying and the missing money.

FOUND BY DETECTIVES

Elliott was last seen alive at 1:08 a.m. by two members of the Canadian Detective Bureau, Ivan G. Porter and Clyde Hart, who discovered his body about four hours later.

Returning to the hotel for another routine early morning check, the detectives noticed the hotel office door was open. Because it was usually closed at that time, they began looking for Elliott and found him in the basement storeroom.

Besides his widow, Mr. Elliott is survived by a daughter, Mrs. R. T. Hudson of Winnipeg and a brother, Fred Elliott, former official with the lands and mines department of the Alberta government, residing in the Westminster Apartments, Edmonton. A second daughter and another brother reside here.

Council OK's Night Service

Another service station will remain open 24 hours a day as a result of city council's approval last night of application of Aefo Service Station, 111 avenue and 101 street.

This brings to nine the number of 24-hour service stations in Edmonton.

Application had been approved by council bylaws committee at a meeting two weeks ago. At the last meeting of council, however, the application was tabled pending further information.

Approval was made on the basis of the service being urgently needed for trucks coming to and from Redwater oil field during night hours and the fact that British-American Oil Co. Ltd. has not sufficient outlets for its products under present regulations.

Shooting Occurs At Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR, June 21.—(CP)—William Gray, 50, died in hospital today from self-inflicted wounds shortly after a shooting affray in the family court in which he killed his wife and the presiding judge, Bruce J. McKitrick.

Gray's death ended the life of the last of the three victims of the shooting, which came with abrupt suddenness while Judge McKitrick was hearing a non-support charge against Gray, a ticket seller at a local theatre.

Witnesses said Mrs. Gray, the first victim, died when her husband, formerly with the Ontario Provincial Police, suddenly pulled a gun from his pocket, firing into her chest at close range. The man then swung to the bench, firing a shot at Judge Bruce J. McKitrick, 45, formerly of Winnipeg. The judge collapsed, dying a short time later in hospital.

SPECTATORS STUNNED

Spectators in the court room, too paralyzed to move by the shock of the sudden shooting affray, watched Gray wheel towards S. H. Davis, his defence counsel, hugging the revolver close. Apparently recognizing his lawyer, Gray turned the revolver on himself firing into his chest.

Witnesses said the first shot seemed to have little effect. Gray re-loaded his gun and fire a second time, collapsing slowly onto the floor.

Police, who were not in the room at the time, came running when the sound of revolver shots exploded. Before they could interfere, however, the shooting was over.

SURPRISE FLURRY

Ambulances were called and the three victims taken to hospital. Mrs. Gray already was dead, with Judge McKitrick dying shortly after admittance.

Police said the sudden flurry of shots came shortly after Judge McKitrick had opened the hearing in the non-support case, laid against Gray on behalf of his wife and three children.

Court was proceeding in normal fashion when Gray's hand suddenly flashed to his pocket and came out with the gun.

It was the first shooting in Port Arthur's history to take place in a court room and one of the few instances when it has happened anywhere in Canada.

RECENT ARRIVALS

Judge McKitrick came to the lakehead in October, 1945, from Winnipeg, following a judicial appointment. The Grays moved here recently from eastern Ontario.

Separated from her husband for two years, Mrs. Gray and the three children—William, nine, Rodney, seven, and Margaret, six—had been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Maki.

Cold War Still Cold, Says West

PARIS, June 21.—(UP)—Western diplomats warned today that the East-West cold war is still on despite the Big Four's agreement to write an Austrian treaty by Sept. 1 and to keep trying to unite Germany.

The four-power council of foreign ministers announced in a formal communique last night the unexpected settlement of all outstanding Austrian treaty issues and a working arrangement for running a divided Germany.

STILL NO PEACE

These accomplishments of the four-week conference in Paris brought a temporary lull in the war of nerves between east and west. But western diplomatic quarters were quick to caution that the cold war is still as cold as ever.

There is no actual war and momentarily little threat of war, they said, but also there is still no peace. Irritations which have caused so much trouble and fear during the last two years will continue, they said.

Western quarters expressed concern last night over the loss of interest in such projects as the Atlantic treaty and America's military aid program—both vital if the west is to remain secure in the event of another Soviet change of mind.

Bond Theft Nets $2,500

Theft of $2,500 in Victory Bonds from a South Side home was reported to city police last night.

Loserwas reported by L. Kremer of 10903 73 avenue. Bonds were stolen from a chest of drawers in a bedroom.

Nothing else was disturbed, police said.

Police were told the home was unoccupied between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. yesterday.

Loss was not discovered until 10:30 p.m. last night.

40 PER CENT CURED

Gambling Granny Given Anti-Poker Acid Doses

LONG BEACH, Calif., June 21.—(AP)—Gardena's gambling granny is free from jail today, but she's still taking doses of glutamic acid to cure her craving for poker.

Mrs. Sula Bell Stimson, 49, was ordered released to her family yesterday after the acid treatment to cure her gambling fever was pronounced 40 per cent effective.

Last November Mrs. Stimson was convicted of writing bad cheques to cover gambling losses. She was placed on probation for three years. In April she was arrested on another cheque charge. No gambling charges were lodged against her because poker is legal in nearby Gardena.

Jail physician Marcus Graham started treating her with glutamic acid, which he said he had used with great success on 25 patients to restore their original personalities.

Although he said the treatment already is 40 per cent effective, she will continue to get her anti-poker acid.

Typhoon Leaves Jap Destruction

Main Island Braces Itself As South Counts Death Toll

TOKYO, June 21.—(AP)—Populous Honshu Island braced late today for a typhoon that has killed an estimated 40 persons in southern Japan and Okinawa.

Police said 563 persons are missing.

The typhoon, with winds up to 115 miles an hour reported, roared across the Japan Sea toward Honshu, the main island. It is due to hit tomorrow.

SHIP GROUNDED

(Reuters news agency said the 8,391-ton U.S. steamship Lightning is grounded 150 miles west of Naha, Okinawa. Two tugs are rushing to help her.)

Destruction in southern Japan is described as heavy. More than 500 houses are reported destroyed. An estimated 4,500 farms were flooded by torrential rains.

Communications have been disrupted. Most of Kyushu island's telephone service has been cut off from this section of Japan. Railroad lines were washed out in many places.

Sixty-two boats were destroyed or set adrift. Police said a 2,500-ton freighter went aground at the entrance of Nakata bay in northern Kyushu.

Heavy rains inundated central Japan.

Tradesmen Get Wage Boosts

Increased pay checks are in store for certain types of Edmonton tradesmen according to announcements made at the meeting of Edmonton Trades and Labor Council last night.

A representative of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' Union advised that his organization had been successful in securing an overall wage increase of four cents hourly and that the work week for employees in the industry had been reduced to 42 hours.

It was also announced that an arbitration board had made a unanimous award of 10 cents hourly to members of the Carpenters' Union, Local 1,325, and to members of the Painters' Union, Local 1,016.

Meetings are being reduced to one monthly for the summer season and will be held July 18, August 15, and September 12.

Bedridden Hospital Patients Miss Vote

Two polling booths will be used election day in city hospitals, but hundreds of bedridden patients will lose their franchise.

Amendments to voting regulations require persons voting at hospital voting booths to present themselves at the polls.

In some previous elections, ballot boxes were taken to the bedsides of hospital patients not physically able to go to the polls. Travelling ballot boxes will not be used in next Monday's election.

Two hospital polls will be established in Edmonton West riding for federal election voting, one at St. Joseph's hospital and the other at University hospital.

But most of Edmonton's estimated 1,700 patients in five city hospitals are unable to leave their beds, and will not be able to vote.

east of the town of Lac la Biche and the other is north of the town both about 175 miles from Edmonton.

The two fires are burning unchecked despite the efforts of fire fighting crews to tame them.

Meanwhile, hot dry weather has sent two fires in the same area, previously checked, out of control. At the Shaw district in the Lac la Biche territory 24 men are attempting to keep the blaze from valuable timber land, and a fire in the Bear district of the same area is being fought by 20 men.

Northwest of Whitecourt, 100 miles west of Edmonton, 27 men with three bulldozers are fighting a serious fire, burning for several days. Another crew of 17 men is at Jasogun Lake where a fire spotted by RCAF planes has been burning for over a week.

On the Lac la Biche river 16 men crew is at work, at Big Bend, eight fire fighters are working, at Jumping Deer area 14 men are fighting a fire, and at the Hill district 15 men are using a bulldozer to fight fire outbreaks. All blazes in the area, now out of control, may be checked later today.

Two small fires are burning near Lesser Slave Lake, but these are under control.

Auditorium Site Action Delayed

eral members of council pointed out it is impossible to fix the exact location of the auditorium without full consideration to other proposed structures such as a new city hall, communications building and a new market building.

WANT SPECIFIC AREA

Stating he represented 36 organizations, Mr. Baker said his committee wanted a specific area set aside as soon as possible in the downtown civic centre area. He was after reasonable assurance that the lots would be reserved.

The committee suggested three sites that would be acceptable. One is on the lots just north of the proposed Glenton hotel. The second is a block further north and the third is on 100 street where the present Recreation Commission building stands.

The CAC chairman said speed is necessary because a great deal of publicity will need to be carried on before the money bylaw for the auditorium is voted on in civic elections next fall.

HOTEL ANGLE

Ald. Sidney Bowcott asked Mr. Baker if he would not regret a definite selection of site at this time because if the Glenton hotel project falls through there would be better sites available.

Mr. Baker replied that the Glenton hotel option to build does not expire until Nov. 1 and it would mean shelving the whole auditorium plan for another year as it would not be possible to place the project before the burgesses at that late date.

"I'd like to throw the Glenton hotel out right now if I could," said Ald. Bowcott. The alderman predicted the money bylaw for the auditorium would pass without difficulty the next time it comes up. Last year the auditorium project was defeated in the civic election plebescite.

Czech Reds Reported Seizing RC Opponents

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 21.—(AP)—Church-state tension mounted today as the Communist government was reported seizing Roman Catholic opponents in Moravia.

Churchmen reported numerous clergy and prominent laymen arrested in that province, southeast of Prague near the Austrian and Hungarian border junction.

One source reported, without confirmation, that Archbishop Joseph Matocha of Olomouc, second city of Moravia, has been placed under a police watch like that maintained for the last five days over Archbishop Joseph Beran of Prague.

HECTIC WEEK-END

Reports of the arrests followed a hectic week-end during which a pastoral letter from Beran was read in churches through the country. It denounced the separatist Catholic action group sponsored by the government. The Archbishop's sermon in Prague was broken up by Communist heckling.

The Moravian arrests were made, church sources said, to crack resistance of loyal Catholics to the separatist group.

The Vatican, meanwhile, denounced the group as "schismatic, anti-catholic, a Communist tool and in opposition to the episcopate."

HELD IN SECLUSION

Archbishop Beran, who has led the church's fight in Czechoslovakia, spent yesterday in seclusion in his Prague palace.

Rumors that he was under formal arrest could not be confirmed but security police had cut him off from any communication with the outside world either by telephone or personal visits.

Alleged Czech Spy Executed At Prague

PRAGUE, June 21.—(Reuters)—Gen. Heliodore Pika, chief of the Czechoslovak military mission in Russia during the war, was executed today. Gen. Pika, convicted of military treason, had been charged with establishing contact with the British Intelligence Service in 1940. The British Intelligence Service was alleged to have paid him for spying against Russia.

Vishinsky Party Thought on Planes Reaching Berlin

BERLIN, June 21.—(Reuters)—Four Soviet aircraft, believed to be carrying Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister, and his party from the Paris Big Four talks to Moscow, landed today at Dallgow airport in the Russian zone outside Berlin.

The party was expected to proceed to Moscow later.

One source said Vishinsky, while in Berlin, would confer with Ambassador V. S. Semeonov, the Soviet political adviser.

New Status For Two Legations

CAPETOWN, June 21.—(Reuters)—The South African and French governments have decided to raise their legations in Paris and Pretoria to embassies. The new status will date from the time each ambassador-designate presents his credentials.

Liquor Use Drops In United States

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—Americans reduced their expenditures on whisky, beer and wine in 1948 for the first time in a decade, the commerce department reports. The 1948 total outlay on alcoholic drinks was estimated at $8,800,000,000, down 3.7 per cent from 1947.

BONGO LEFT CONGO AND IS A HERO NOW

FLINT, Mich., June 21.—(AP)—Bongo, a ring-tailed monkey, is a hero.

As soon as he was free outside, Bongo dashed back into the house.

Potvin, though clearly outdistanced, re-entered in pursuit. He met Bongo sliding down the banister, in his arms his prized possession, a black cloth lamb.

....And Then There Are Other Long Days

Hot New Angle Uncorked About Longest Day Myth

By STAN BURKE
Bulletin Staff Reporter

Today is the longest day of the year.

This fact is of utterly no interest to anyone except city editors and maybe astronomers—and probably of uncommonly little interest to the latter.

But every year city editors eagerly await the longest and shortest days of the year and assign reporters to record the events.

NUTTIN' NEW NATCH!

They always instruct them to "get a new angle on it."

Of course there aren't any new angles.

In fact, there aren't any angles at all. But harried, harassed, cloistered city editors will seize at any straw.

(February 2—or Groundhog Day—is another of these occasions. This is the day when the photographers have their annual 'hate the city editor' day.' They are invariably instructed to get a picture of one of the little beasts. Which is impossible. But city editors are like that.)

BEAT IT—YOUR HEAD

It's different on June 21. Even a city editor knows you can't get much of a picture of the longest day of the year. So he orders reporters to beat his head against the wall and dream up something.

Matter of fact, this may not be the longest day at all.

For reasons unexplained by the Encyclopaedia Britannica, the longest day—or the summer solstice—sometimes occurs on June 22.

The fact that the Britannica does not even bother to elaborate on the subject—only devotes a paragraph or two—shows how extremely disinterested people are about the whole matter.

CITY EDS DIFF

But city editors are different from people.

So anyhow, today—or maybe tomorrow—you will have a minute or two more sunlight.

If it doesn't rain.

What you are going to do with it, I frankly haven't the slightest idea. And couldn't care less.

Possibly the subject may serve as a topic of conversation after you have exhausted the weather and things start to get sticky.

But it probably won't lead to much.

SUPREME COURT HAS ACCIDENTAL DELAY

Train-car accident which sent barrister W. G. K. Bloor to hospital yesterday had its effect on Supreme Court today.

Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor was forced to adjourn at 10:30 this morning when it was pointed out Mr. Bloor had been retained as defence counsel by defendants in all cases set for today.

Adjourned until Thursday afternoon was trial of Alex Skarlicki. Trial of Irene Nelson and Omar E. Barker was set for Friday afternoon.

Skarlicki is charged with illegal possession and sale of drugs. Others face joint charge of illegal possession of drugs.

City Resents Dictation On Apartment Sites

City council thinks it isn't right for a single community to tell the city it shall not permit apartment blocks in any particular district.

This was made clear at last night's special meeting of council when a delegation representing residents of McKernan Lake district on the South Side protested a proposed $750,000 project in that area.

REZONING PROTESTED

Phil Pepper, spokesman for 330 war veteran residents of the district, presented a petition protesting against application of contractor Don Titus to rezone one and one-half blocks from private dwellings to permit construction of 12 apartment buildings, three stores and a community theatre.

Pepper said the veterans had put all their money into homes on the understanding the area would remain zoned for private dwellings. He claimed the 160 suites planned for the small area would eventually create a slum district. The congestion would cause problems of population density, increased traffic danger for children from cars and four times as much garbage.

He said the school accommodation problem would be aggravated as the school soon to be built in the area could handle only 420 children out of 745 in the area.

STAB IN BACK

Council should not rubber stamp a "contractor's dream," and council members would be guilty of a breach of trust and strike the veterans "a stab in the back" if they permitted the project in the district, Mr. Pepper said.

"As for myself I would say council can give no definite assurance it will not zone or rezone as it sees fit," declared Mayor Ainlay, who asked Mr. Pepper if he knew of a single district in Edmonton where apartment houses are not permitted.

Ald. Harold E. Tanner and Ald. F. Armour Ford both pointed out that apartments are needed to help solve the housing shortage. Ald. Tanner felt that some veterans might even prefer living in apartments.

OBJECTION SOUND

The mayor said he believed McKernan Lake people have a sound objection as to the number of apartments in such a small area.

Remainder of aldermen supported this view.

Ald. Ford said he had been informed that the contractor does not intend to go ahead with the project. Mr. Titus owns the property in question which is on the dry bed of a slough in the centre of the one time lake bottom.

Ald. Richard Hanna moved that the matter go back to the town planning commission. The commission had recommended acceptance of the project.

ACTION DEFERRED

Ald. Sid Parsons suggested no action be taken at this time.

Ald. Fred W. Mitchell said what seemed most needed is a tightening up in regulations governing construction of apartments.

Council finally voted to refer the matter back to the Town Planning Commission for consideration.

H. Gallimore Funeral Set

Funeral services for H. P. Gallimore, 76, of 9532 89 avenue, who died in hospital here at the weekend, will be held at Hainstock's chapel tomorrow at 2 p.m.

HOMESTEADED HERE

He was born at Newcastle, Eng., came to Canada and homesteaded at Namao and Killam from 1903 to 1913. He served overseas with the 51st Battalion and on his return served with the soldier settlement body until his retirement 11 years ago.

He was a past master of the Masonic Lodge.

Surviving are Mrs. Gallimore; five sons, Arthur, John and George, all of Edmonton; C. Wilfrid, Toronto, and Harry, Vancouver; one daughter, Mrs. A. M. Hansen, Edmonton and a brother in England.

TAKE NO CHANCES

Jules Castonguay and an unidentified group of deputy returning officers today exploded Canadian newspapermen's hopes of giving the June 27 election the light touch. Ordinarily newspapers find their most amusing post-election stories involve deputy returning officers who lock their ballot boxes after voting is completed, and then slip the key through the slot, or take it home with them. Count of returns is delayed until election officials blast open the ballot box or get the DRO out of bed.

But this time chief electoral officer Castonguay is having no such tricks. Ballot boxes for the federal vote will be lock-less and key-less. Instead, DRO's will close the boxes with a metal seal of the type used to seal freight cars.

Oil Labor Mart Said 'Not Overrun'

NES Official Says U.S. Imports Being Replaced

Fred J. White, prairie regional superintendent of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, said in a report issued here today that the labor market in the oil industry near Edmonton is not over-run by U.S. workers.

Some American oil companies brought complete drilling outfits to the area because prior to their arrival they did not know what labor conditions would be, Mr. White said.

But arrangements have been made that these drilling outfits will gradually change their American crews to Canadian and in future only personnel unavailable in Canada will be brought into the area from the U. S., he added.

Nine NES offices adjacent to oil drilling operations on the prairies have supplied more than 1,500 Canadian workers to oil companies in the year ending May 1, 1949.

On the rest of the Alberta labor front, Mr. White reported most mining fields are working short time. Experienced mine laborers are available at Edmonton but have been unable to find work in their trade.

SHORTAGE SEEN

He predicted a possible shortage in skilled and semi-skilled construction labor before close of the current building season.

A definite shortage of qualified single stenographers continues with a steady demand in Calgary and Edmonton for experienced sales clerks. Calgary still has a considerable number of unfilled orders for summer resort work.

Blairmore hospital requires nurses and nurses aides urgently. Elsewhere the demand for graduate nurses also is urgent.

Veterans Plan Large Meeting

Mass meetings of veterans and the general public will be held in Memorial hall tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Candidates in the forthcoming federal election will be present to answer questions of importance to veterans and veterans' dependents.

Hefty Thieves Stump Police

Nervy and obviously husky thieves have recently pulled off jobs in Edmonton which garnered them four tons of oil pipe valves and a shotgun.

Weighty problem confronting police is the method used to steal the heavy load of steel from a warehouse at 10411 105 street.

George Gordon of 12615 Stony Plain Road, said the valves, valued at $300, were stolen over the past six weeks.

Confusing also to city law-enforcers is the theft of a $90 pump shot gun, taken from a department store yesterday during business hours.

Candidates on Hustings Open Last-Week Moves

Federal election campaign moved into its final week last night, as Social Credit and CCF candidates and their supporters blasted government policies.

Liberal candidates A. Fred Macdonald and George Prudham, Edmonton nominees, countered with addresses listing benefits of the Liberal regime.

Before an Acadia Hall audience, Mr. Macdonald said national income and employment has been guided to its present record proportions by sound Liberal administration.

"Conditions in the Dominion at present are prosperous, and it is the program of the Liberal party to continue that prosperity with adequate social security, expanding trade and stable agriculture policy," he said.

Touching on the government's international policy, he said a regional security pact, such as the North Atlantic Pact is "Canada's safeguard against possible aggression." Prime Minister St. Laurent, as minister of external affairs, predicted the need for the North Atlantic Pact as early as 1947, the candidate said.

Mr. Macdonald promised to urge the Edmonton East Liberal Association to arrange a public meeting after each House of Commons, where, if elected, he could give a detailed account of his parliamentary duties.

Record of the Liberal government was also discussed by Mr. Macdonald radio speeches delivered this morning and yesterday morning.

Canada's housing problem was featured topic of Mr. Prudham's address at Acadia hall.

He said if he had been critical many times of Liberal government housing policy, but that his criticism had been instructive in all cases.

He emphasized the need for lower down-payments in providing Canadians with home, and predicted that cost of housing would soon level off.

"I'll work until slum areas in Edmonton and other cities are cleared up whether I am elected or not—it is in such sections that Communism is bred and developed," he said.

Meanwhile, at the Recreation building, Premier E. C. Manning blasted Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties for "paying with pre-election propaganda."

He said talk of a Trans-Canada highway was something discussed by the Liberal party each year before an election.

Alberta's ever-increasing importance of oil and gas industries is making it necessary for Social Credit to have greater representation in the federal parliament. A group of 15 or 20 Social Credit members in Commons "might exercise a lot of influence now that the CCF is a dying cause," the Premier suggested.

Social Credit candidates J. M. Stone and Ambrose Holowach of Edmonton spoke briefly to the meeting.

At North Edmonton Community Hall last night, McKim Ross, CCF candidate for Edmonton East, criticized the Federal Government's Labor Act, adopted by parliament in 1948, as "falling short of protecting organized labor against anti-union employers."

"The CCF reaffirms its determination to introduce genuine, nation-wide collective bargaining legislation and will co-operate with the provinces in its administration," he said.

Stadium for the Future

If the city council is willing to spend $25,000 on additions to the Clarke Stadium, which are only temporary, it would be infinitely better business to spend up to $500,000 on a stadium that will serve Edmonton for years to come.

We are still of the opinion that the $25,000 expenditure is justified, first, because it will enable a valuable agency of civic publicity, which the Eskimo Football Club surely is, to get off to a good start and, secondly, because, since the city gets 15 per cent of the gross gate as rental, it will increase civic revenues.

But the $25,000 project, at best, is only an expedient.

It will add only 2,168 seats to the present total of 3,200 and provide improved sanitary facilities.

If attendance at the games comes up to expectations, the city will derive some $10,000 revenue from this enlarged plant in the first season.

All that is very nice. But is it enough?

With the city growing at the rate of 10,000 a year, as the completed census has just shown, will make-shift grandstands seating a little more than 5,000 people do the job a civic stadium is supposed to do in a city of Edmonton's potential size?

Obviously it will not.

And, just as obviously, while the $25,000 project is much better than nothing at all, it is surely neither wise nor far-seeing to approach this problem from the standpoint of expediency or a patched-up job.

The Exhibition Association plans to spend half a million dollars this summer on a new concrete-steel grandstand.

Why should anything less than that be considered good enough for Clarke Stadium?

Something of a Discrepancy

There is a strange discrepancy in Mayor Harry D. Ainlay's present loud praise for the Northern Alberta School Safety Patrol and his recent condemnation of the proposed Junior Police Force in Edmonton.

Of the former he said:

"Boys and girls, the job you are doing is vital."

Of the latter he said:

"It would be nothing but a junior gestapo. I don't want to see Edmonton children made sneaks and tale-bearers."

Of course the Safety Patrol is doing a magnificent job.

But why should one branch of police work be "vital" while the other branches of police work are sneaky and reprehensible?

It is eminently true that a boy or a girl does a vital job when he or she assumes the position of taking over traffic control at dangerous street corners.

But why is it not equally true that a boy or girl would do a vital job if he or she should assume the police function of combatting delinquency?

Is a child injured by a speeding car much more of a pitiable spectacle than a child plunging into crime?

What Kind of 'Americanism'?

It would not be hard to applaud Paul Robeson when he shouts out to a crowd in New York:

"I never accepted an inferior role because of my race or color and by God I never will!"

There is something close to the sublime in a declaration such as this because the decent people of this continent have no wish to condemn any race or color to inferiority.

But when he bawls out to the same crowd:

"I defy any part of an insolent, dominating America to challenge my Americanism," and follows this by saying:

"I love the Soviet people more than any other nation," he not only degrades the nobility of his former statement, but throws serious doubt on his good sense.

What kind of "Americanism" is it that puts the "Soviet people" first?

And what service does he do his colored compatriots when he champions their cause in one breath and proclaims allegiance to a menacing power in the next?

It Would Be a Shameful Act

The federal department of justice should remit the sentence of death passed on a 16-year-old boy at Drumheller who was recently found guilty of murder.

It is a sufficient blot on the humanity and intellectual resource of any civilized country that any person should be put to death in peace time.

But it would be infinitely shameful if we should start hanging children.

It is probably true, as police and penal experience shows, that certain persons of rare incidence are so utterly depraved as to constitute a menace to society so long as they are alive.

But to thrust a 16-year-old child into this category is as stupid as it is barbaric.

There is a great deal of cruel nonsense talked about murderers having no pity on their victims and that, therefore, society should have no pity on them.

A capacity for pity is a measure of civilization. And unless society demonstrates a capacity for pity, it is not a civilized society at all.

For that reason society should not mete out its compassion according to the meagre standards of the murderer, but according to the generous standards of decent men.

It would be folly to encourage a storm of sentimentalism in which this unhappy youth would be turned free.

His punishment should be turned towards proving to him that no one takes human life in this country with impunity. His rehabilitation should take the form of eradicating those perversions of temper or disposition that brought him into his present plight.

But to hang him would be monstrous. Society's authority to end a life is a solemn and a dreadful thing. Society's authority to make a gift of life is perhaps the highest possible function of civilization.

Italian Recovery Is Most Striking Of All In Europe

PHILPOTT

MILAN, Italy—If it is true that we were surprised by the indications of a future somewhere in Germany, it is also true that what we have seen in Italy literally astounds us.

Perhaps because we had been expecting such evidence of poverty, we were all the more surprised at the universal evidences of a comeback here.

Milan looks more like a pre-World War One U.S. boom town than anything I have seen recently in Canada.

It is hard for us to believe that this nation has over two and a third million unemployed adults. For here they look materially as well off as any people I remember seeing recently in any country, including our own.

And they seem to be the happiest people we have ever come across.

If you cross into Italy via the Simplon Pass from Switzerland, your first impressions are of poverty and obvious over-population. You miss the spic-and-span look that is everywhere in Switzerland. But you notice the difference in the way the youngsters greet the passing Swedish bus.

In many parts of France, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Switzerland, smiling children waved at us. But in Italy they spontaneously fling up their arms in happy (not Fascist) salute. And they spontaneously cheer.

Rich, Poor

Then, when you get to Stressa, on beautiful Lake Maggiora, you see the contrast between living conditions of rich and poor in Italy.

For there are many sumptuous hotels and private mansions there (in one of which Princess Margaret was staying when we arrived).

But nothing in the poor valley, or on the shores of wealthy Stressa prepares you for Milan.

You come in on a typical American - like toll highway. (Fare 60 cents for the whole bus-load.)

In fact, it is even more American than the U.S.A., for the advertising signs are only 50 yards apart, and almost hit you in the eye physically as well as mentally.

This badly-bombed city has been rebuilt in a way that puts somebody in Germany to shame, by comparison.

In fact, it is so far ahead of London in its rebuilding program that the comparison isn't even funny.

You still see blocks of ruins. But you see hundreds of rebuilt apartments. You see fine new commercial buildings equal to anything in the U.S.A.

Just a hundred yards from where I am writing this is the new head office of an Italian commercial corporation. It is built of green marble. It has ten main storeys and a tower atop that. The design is beautiful, chaste, modern. The window frames are of aluminum.

That is an extreme case. But all sorts of building is going ahead everywhere.

Everybody Driving

The most visible difference between Germany and Italy is that there are no effective restrictions on motorized traffic. Germany is a country where only the conquerors, or their stooges, or black market crooks, are allowed to drive.

In Italy, just about everybody and his brother seems to be driving. Almost you can buy a neat, new, little Fiat for about one-third what a car costs us at home.

The women are as well dressed here as in Canada (my wife says better dressed). Moreover, although we deliberately went through the poorest districts of this great city yesterday, we saw no poverty any worse than we could find in Canada.

You don't see any thin, pasty-faced children here as in Germany. They tell me that the mammas have a terrible job making ends meet. But they surely do it, for the proof of the pudding is in the eating.

Surely nowhere is there a more abundant crop of children. And if you can judge from their faces, they are full of the joy of life.

Something of a Discrepancy

There is a strange discrepancy in Mayor Harry D. Ainlay's present loud praise for the Northern Alberta School Safety Patrol and his recent condemnation of the proposed Junior Police Force in Edmonton.

Of the former he said:

"Boys and girls, the job you are doing is vital."

Of the latter he said:

"It would be nothing but a junior gestapo. I don't want to see Edmonton children made sneaks and tale-bearers."

Of course the Safety Patrol is doing a magnificent job.

But why should one branch of police work be "vital" while the other branches of police work are sneaky and reprehensible?

It is eminently true that a boy or a girl does a vital job when he or she assumes the position of taking over traffic control at dangerous street corners.

But why is it not equally true that a boy or girl would do a vital job if he or she should assume the police function of combatting delinquency?

Is a child injured by a speeding car much more of a pitiable spectacle than a child plunging into crime?

Letters to the Editor

Dignity Restraint

Editor, Bulletin—I am satisfied that the policies of the administration formerly presided over by W. L. Mackenzie King approximated my idea more closely than anything that could have been hoped for from any other political group and I am confident that the high standards of Liberalism will be maintained in the future.

In the coming election, however, I shall be glad to support the Honorable Louis St. Laurent if for no other reason than that, being culturally mature, he brings to the political scene an attitude of dignity and restraint.

He is as naturally sincere as his opponents are blatant and opportunistic.

Journal Is Totalitarian

Editor, Bulletin—Please grant space to reply to the Journal editorial of June 14th.

The argument used is that it is foolish to vote for any candidate except a Liberal because government policy is decided in caucus and not on the floor of the house of commons. One could go even farther and say that policy is largely decided in the council chambers on the financial advice of the banking interests.

However, the point is that if the Journal's contention is a Liberal belief, what argument would they put forth to justify the political existence of one Harper Prowse and one Hugh John MacDonald, the only two Liberal M.L.A.'s in the Alberta legislature? To be consistent, the Journal should endeavor to get them both to resign their seats in favor of a couple more Social Crediters.

Surely representation of minority groups is a basic principle of democracy. All who believe in "Government of the people for the people and by the people" will condemn totalitarian concepts as expressed in the editorial.

Unemployment And Production

Editor, Bulletin—It is with great regret that I observe that none of the respectable orthodox political parties will take up the matter of unemployment and over-production. Why is there unemployment and why is there over-production? Before the First Great War Canada was booming. The country was being opened up. In fact everything that goes to make a modern nation was being built, and the power used for such undertakings was mostly manpower, supplemented by animal power. The steam engine was just coming into its own as a form of supplementary power. Then in the offing, of course, there was electricity. There was no such thing as unemployment. And even so production could not begin to feel the demand. On every large project human power was the dominant factor.

Go now into the field of production and you will see that a few machines have replaced thousands of men in production.

But has a reasonable share of the wealth which these machines produce been diverted to the use of the human beings which they have displaced in labor? I think not.

For this governments and governments only must take the blame, for they only have the power to alter conditions.

Now I claim that it is not necessary to go either pink Socialist, or Communist to solve these problems. In Russia, I am told, the right of a job or an income in lieu of a job, is guaranteed by the constitution of that country. Now the Russian system is recognized throughout the civilized world as being the wickedest system of any government of the world. Yet even they recognize the right of the individual to a living standard at a ratio to which the production of the country warrants.

Therefore it is only right that we should ask any government to whom we give our assent to alter our constitution to give us at least equal rights and privileges.

How could these rights be established without going Socialist?

In one way by doing away with all forms of taxation except turnover tax. Income tax from income, production, tax derived from stocks, bonds, etc., income tax from any source after a reasonable minimum has been established.

I think that in this way the government could acquire enough revenue to finance all these undertakings without levying more than 25% of the turnover and production of the country. They could provide for the care of all who by reason of the use of the machine have no jobs, and could be made available to them either in the form of loans or alternatively monthly incomes, and to the extent of a billion dollars would tend to absorb the surplus production.

Would not this go a long way toward warding off a major depression and that without the use of Socialism or Communism?

Weary Of Clever Men

Editor, Bulletin—We live and learn is a well-known saying, but how can we prove that we learn?

By taking our stand with good men, and voting for that man who stands for sound government we prove that we have learned much.

Sound government must rest upon the teachings of the Master.

In Alberta we have been shown the way that leads out of confusion into that peace and prosperity which alone can restore equilibrium to the lives of men and of nations. We must heed the counsel of good men.

We are all tired of clever men. Clever men have brought about all the destruction of life and happiness in the world today. Wherever you find the clever manipulation or control of money and of the bounties of a wise Providence there you will also find the abomination that presently brings in its wake inevitable desolation: and because of the evidence before our very eyes we know that clever men are in control.

The remedy then is to use our God-given intelligence to learn what is good and to go after it with all our strength.

This may sound too simple for the adroitly clever mind to grasp, and likewise it would take away the power of the wicked mind. Consequently it is mightily opposed.

But sooner or later we learn that our only hope is to see the peace and prosperity people pray for is to return to the truth that makes free.

And in Alberta our premier and his ministers are pledged to point the way, and to acquaint the people with their heritage of prosperity, peace, freedom and happiness.

Edmonton Has Roses

Editor, Bulletin—"Twas but a little faded rosebud." Grace Luckhart, Province columnist lately sojourning in darkest Edmonton said so.

Sent all the way from Vancouver to grace a family festival held in Edmonton purported to be a city guiltless of roses. The implication is that the benighted Edmontonians fazed on its battered imperfections in wordless wonder. Fame of the rose show held in Edmonton every year for lo! these many years seems never to have reached the ears of this Vancouverite.

These lines are the reactions of a former Albertan who is tired of having that grand province maligned.

Drowning Fatality

Editor, Bulletin—The council of the town of Sylvan Lake would like to have certain erroneous impressions clarified regarding the drowning of Eugene Marchand at Sylvan Lake on June 6th. Your account of it would suggest that the town has no life-saving facilities whatsoever.

The town foreman placed life belts on the pier around the first of June. At the time of the accident none was available. It is evident that the disappearance of these life-belts was the work of vandals, over whom the town has little control. One of these belts was found washed up on a beach several days later.

It is the policy of the town to have a properly qualified lifeguard on duty daily from July 1st to the Labor Day week-end.

The town council feels that all reasonable precautions are being taken to prevent drowning accidents.

Nauseated Feeling

Editor, Bulletin—Has this so-called smart, modern generation gone completely berserk?

I am a man who enjoys a good steak or pork chops, etc., along with some nice music on the wurlitzer like "Forever and Ever," "Home on the Range," Life in the Finland Woods," or even the "Beer Barrel Polka."

But honestly when some fool wastes a nickel on such an abomination as "Riders in the Sky" when I'm relishing a good meal, suddenly I get a sick, nauseated feeling.

Abuse Of Canada

Editor, Bulletin—Many letters have been printed lately concerning the various advantages and disadvantages of living in Canada.

The ill-mannered tactless few who unfortunately, have marked all old-country people in the same way as themselves, have inspired in Canadians a sense of patriotism that I did not think existed.

I daresay that most of us have a deep sense of pride for our country but we seem to feel embarrassed about proclaiming our loyalty. May our more verbose patriots grow in number so that in time the habitual whiners, such as those who have burdened us with silly complaints will be a small minority.

Carry on Canadians—we're as good as the best there is.

From Today's News

By Dewitt Mackenzie

The month-old Big Four Foreign Ministers' council meeting in Paris has ground to a weary close, having recorded some achievement although it has done little to make the halls of the pink palace echo with satisfaction.

Small wonder that a United States spokesman wasn't optimistic in evaluating the results. One of the conference's chief accomplishments has been to emphasize again the conflict between the two blocs—western democracy and totalitarian bolshevism. It's difficult to find common ground on vital issues.

The principal object of the conference—to establish economic and political unity for Germany—hasn't got far. The best that could be done by the four statesmen—Vishinsky of Russia, Bevin of Britain, Scheuman of France and Acheson of the United States—was to agree on a "modus vivendi" under which dismembered Germany will continue to be administered by the opposing blocs.

Under this agreement the Big Four would reopen and encourage trade between east and west Germany. The Russians promise not to impose blockade conditions on Berlin again.

Will it work . . ?

At face value that looks good, but like real estate, it depends on whether it can be made to work. The establishment of political and economic unity of Germany is essential to the rehabilitation and peace of Europe. However, that very substance of the Reich has made it the subject of a tug-of-war between west and east. There is no guarantee that this tug-of-war will cease.

The council announced agreement in principle on an Austrian independence treaty.

The council agreed that Austria's frontiers will remain what they were Jan. 1, 1938, which means that Yugoslavia's claim has been thrown out. Russia is expected to withdraw her support of that claim. Yugoslavia won't get reparations but may retain, or liquidate Austrian property" in Yugoslavia territory. Austria will pay Russia $150,000,000 in reparations.

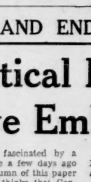
That's what has been agreed to in principle. It remains to be seen whether it will be what ultimately is signed.

ODDS AND ENDS By Harold L. Weir

Political Parties Should Have Emblems, Man Says

I have been fascinated by a suggestion made a few days ago in the letter column of this paper by a man who thinks that Canada's political parties should have emblems.

The force of his argument, I admit, somewhat escapes me. That is to say, I am unable to discern what moral strength would be added to the assorted shades of political thought in this country should they adopt various devices to symbolize them.



WEIR

But the innovation would assuredly make campaigns more picturesque.

And since I am undeviatingly in favor of the picturesque in politics and willing at all times to lend myself to campaigns full of sound and fury, signifying nothing, I should like to say a few crisp words in the matter.

Our correspondent pointed somewhat enviously to the custom in the United States which makes the elephant the emblem of the Republicans and the jackass the emblem of the Democrats.

His proposal is that the Liberals in Canada should adopt the moose as a symbol which the Conservatives should adopt the beaver.

He didn't say anything about the CCF, but I know what he was thinking.

Totally Unsuitable

Well, now, I think this symbolism is pretty weak.

In the first place, the moose and the beaver are not very well known among urban Canadians.

Everybody, of course, knows what an elephant is and what a jackass is because every well-bred child has seen a circus and has heard his mother talking to his father.

But what do the people of Montreal, for instance, know about a moose?

I'll bet you anything most Montrealers think a moose is a club where dissolute men drink beer.

And in Toronto, I'm told, everybody thinks a beaver is a man with a beard.

So far as the suggested CCF emblem is concerned, which nobody has come right out and mentioned, well, Canadians know what they are but even symbolism should be scrupulously polite.

As a matter of fact, I don't think animals would do as emblems at all.

What we want is something more dainty and aesthetic, so to speak.

Notable Precedent

Of course, we should not forget that the Conservative party already has a traditional emblem which is the primrose.

But the primrose is a bit fragile, perhaps, for the robustious tempo of the Canadian hustings.

Besides, I think the choice of political emblems should be made in a more dramatic fashion than by a mere trip to the zoo or snooping around a rock with the late Mr. Wordsworth.

For instance, the most powerful political symbols of all time were chosen really lustily.

I refer to that historical episode in the mediaeval garden when two brothers got into a horrible row over which should rule England and the Lancastrian brother plucked a red rose and the Yorkist brother plucked a white rose and men cut each other's throats under those two gentle emblems for about three hundred years.

Of course, when the Tudors succeeded the Yorkists, a new kind of rose was unfurled in royal heraldry.

"Leave us not horse around with roses livid or a-blush" quoth the seventh Harry. "Our Tudor rose shall be of nobler hue. A golden rose for us, forsooth."

And so the Tudors adopted a golden rose as their emblem which was uncommonly appropriate to the financial proclivities of some later Tudors such as that Mary who had "Calais" written in her heart and that Elizabeth who has chastity written in her bosom, a somewhat egregious bit of writing in either case.

Triple Choice

But that, I think, should be the general plot for choosing political emblems in Canada.

Let Messrs. St. Laurent, Drew and Coldwell go for a walk together in a garden in the cool of evening, like the Almighty, and let events take their course.

Steer these distinguished gentlemen into the vegetable plot and whatever they come up with, let that be the symbol of their respective parties.

A radish, a wurtzel-mangel and a pinch of watercress.

What could arouse political passion and fury to greater heights than these?

Trivia

A mobile dwelling that can be built in two hours is helping to solve Britain's housing problems. In this short time six men can assemble a four-roomed home that is completely self-contained. Known as the "Terrapin," this house is made of aluminum and contains a living-room, two bedrooms, a kitchen and bathroom. When production gathers full momentum, the cost of each house will be about $3,200. Its inventor, Major Boult, considers that it would prove particularly valuable in the Commonwealth countries and the U.S.A. for opening up undeveloped areas.

Smiles

Two moonshiners from the mountains were taking their first train trip. They had heard of soda pop, but neither had ever tasted any, so when the vendor came through the car they each bought a bottle.

The first moonshiner wiped the lip of the bottle with his hand and took a long drink—just as the train entered a tunnel.

"How d'you like it, Jed?" asked his companion in the darkness.

Don't fetch that stuff, Lem. I been struck blind!"

Boy-Killing Cougar Shot ¼ Mile From Death Scene

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 21.—(BUP)—A vicious 80-pound cougar which on Sunday killed a small Indian boy near his Kyquot, B.C. home, was treed by trained dogs and shot Monday by a sharpshooting game department predatory hunter.

The cougar was blasted out of a tall tree by "Skate" Hames, a quarter of a mile from where it had mauled seven-year-old Dominic Taylor as he played happily on the beach with his father, Dominic Senior. The boy died of injuries despite first aid.

The killer was brought down an hour and a half after seven trained cougar dogs were flown from Bamfield, 120 miles to the south on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

DEATH AVENGED

Queen Charlotte airlines pilot Hugh Hughes, who flew the party to the scene and participated in the "kill," arrived back here Monday night and told British United Press how the death of the youngster "was avenged."

Hughes said he flew from Vancouver Monday morning to Bamfield, where he picked up chief predatory hunter Jimmie Dewar, "Skate" Hames and J. Frost, and loaded their seven highly trained dogs aboard his Norseman for the flight up the coast. He said the party on landing on the bay, was taken to the tiny Indian village of five houses and met the heartbroken father, Dominic Taylor, senior.

OVERALLS STILL THERE

"He led us to the spot on the beach where the cougar came out of the bush and attacked the boy," Hughes said. "It sort of shook us when we found Dominic's overalls left there where they were ripped off by the cat."

"Just as we got started," Hughes said, "the dogs treed a tomcat from the Indian village and it had to be shot before we could get the dogs to go on after the cougar."

Hughes said the seven hounds led by Dewar's "Big Scout" picked up the scent in the bush near the scene of the tragedy and "in about five minutes" had treed the cougar.

COULDN'T GET A SHOT

He said first they found a partially devoured carcass of a dog from the Indian village which the cougar had killed on Saturday.

"It was about 100 feet up in a big hemlock, and the bush was so thick the boys couldn't get a shot," Hughes said. "It was 'Skate' Hames who finally got it. He climbed 50 feet up another tree and brought the cougar down with one shot."

He said the predator was a small one, weighing only 80 pounds.

Hughes said the father, who showed great emotion at the loss of his boy, "expressed his gratitude" to the hunters for "avenging Dominic's death."

The flyer said he learned that Taylor was unable to save his boy from the sudden, vicious attack by the cougar, but managed to chase it into the bush.

"The cougar's hide will be presented to Taylor, the pilot said.

HIS ALIBI IS IRON-CLAD

Old Home Week Begins In London

LONDON, Ont., June 21.—(CP)—London's Old Home Week—the first old boys' reunion in more than 10 years—was in full swing today.

Kiwanians Told Food Key to World Peace

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., June 21.—(AP)—Kiwanians were told today "the key to world peace may be food."

J. W. G. MacEwen, dean of agriculture at University of Manitoba, told the 34th annual convention of Kiwanis International:

"By well-directed food policies, we stand to improve soils, increase security, feed hungry people and create goodwill among men."

MacEwen said it takes 2½ acres to give each person an adequate diet, but only two acres per person are available.

"There can be no real surplus of good food; there's not enough land.

HUMAN RELATIONS BASIC

"If local surplus of food occurs, the explanation must be failure in human relations rather than too much food."

World population continues to grow, MacEwen said, and by the end of this century it is estimated there will be 3,000,000,000 persons on earth.

"Every morning when you awaken, the world has about 50,000 extra people for breakfast.

"Nutrition is more basic to human welfare and world peace than rockets and bombs.

The germs of suspicion and war breed where people are hungry."

RCMP Alerted To Forestall 'Peg Youths

WINNIPEG, June 21.—(CP)—RCMP here yesterday said reinforcements had been sent during the week-end to Winnipeg Beach, 60 miles north of here, following reports of disturbances the previous week-end. However, they said, nothing happened.

Beach residents said that on the June 11 week-end a gang of north Winnipeg juveniles was "badly beaten up" and planned to return June 18 with a gang of approximately 200 to gain "revenge."

Unofficial reports said an RCMP force of more than 60 men had been rushed to the beach to maintain order.

Cdn. Tax Head Urged For U.S.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(CP)—The United States today was urged to follow Canada's lead in repealing war-imposed excise taxes on things such as jewelry, luggage, furs and cosmetics.

Representative Joseph W. Martin, (Rep.-Mass.) said existing high rates are hurting business and contribute to unemployment. He cited Canadian jewelry sales as an example of what repeal would do, saying they had increased greatly since Canada's jewelry excise tax was eliminated.

FALSETEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Do not live in fear of this happening to you . . . just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Labor Rebels Set Up Group

LONDON, June 21.—(Reuters)—Four Labor members of parliament who have been expelled from the party, yesterday announced formation of a new group in the House of Commons.

Dr. N. Pritt is chairman of the new Labor Independent Group." Its other members are J. Platts-Mills, Konni Zilliacus and L. J. Solley.

Pritt was expelled from the Labor party in March, 1940. Platts-Mills in April, 1948, and Zilliacus and Solley last month.

The group announced it will pursue a Socialist policy, supporting the Labor government in general, but opposing it in those fields in which it regards it as abandoning a Socialist policy and collaborating with Conservatives.

Past activities of the four members suggest that major attack on the government will be in the field of foreign policy.

Failure of Credit Union Is Probed

Co-op. Grocery Manager Sought on Arson Charge

VAL D'OR, Que., June 21.—(CP)—Elphege Veillette, chairman of the board of directors of Val D'Or's La Caisse Populaire, which closed June 8, said today a second meeting of depositors will be held shortly to decide on a course of action.

At a meeting June 14 the depositors were told their credit union had only $1,800 in assets to cover deposits totalling $195,957.

The credit unions, known in Quebec as Caisses Populaires, are co-operative "people's banks." Each is operated independently.

DISAPPEARANCE LINK

Linked with the present situation is the disappearance of Roger Piloud, former manager of La Valdorienne, a co-operative grocery store which was loaned some $250,000 by the credit union.

Piloud, in whom immigration authorities are interested and two other persons, have been charged with conspiracy to commit arson.

The depositors will probably decide whether they will take proportionately what is left of cash and mortgage assets of the credit union or wait to see if the co-operative grocery, through public support, can eventually pay off the loans.

INVESTIGATION PROMISED

Meanwhile, Jacques Miquelon of Malartic, member of the Quebec legislature for Abitibi East, has undertaken to investigate the credit union's closing.

He said if depositors' interests will be best served, he will ask the attorney-general's department to conduct an official investigation.

In Quebec the department said it had not yet been asked to take any steps although the depositors at their first meeting talked about requesting a provincial inquiry.

DEPORTATION LIKELY

Immigration authorities in Ottawa said if Piloud is found and convicted he probably will be deported to Switzerland. They said he was admitted to Canada while en route to Australia. At his request, recommendation was made that he be allowed to remain in this country.

Piloud resigned last Sept. 18 as manager of the co-operative store but stayed on to train a new manager.

Speeding Charge On Diplomat Is Withdrawn

PORT CREDIT, Ont., June 21.—(CP)—Crown authorities yesterday withdrew a speeding charge against Caio de Lima Cavacanti, commercial counsellor of the Brazilian embassy in Ottawa.

Crown Attorney W. G. Davis of Brampton said he withdrew the charge following a request from the external affairs department that the diplomat be granted diplomatic immunity.

Chief Constable Joe Nelson of Port Credit, near Toronto, said last week he would not drop the charge because the car was "driven at a very high speed through the town."

Auto Thief Not Jailed

YORKTON, Sask., June 21.—(CP)—Ralph W. Burton of Toronto was given a suspended sentence following conviction on a charge of theft of a car by conversion.

In a test case instituted by an automobile finance company and reported the first of its kind in Canada, Burton was said to have purchased the car in Rosetown, Sask., with the assistance of a finance company. He sold it here and failed to repay the company. Burton's counsel argued the act was done without criminal intent.

HAUGHLEY, Suffolk, England, June 21.—(CP)—At 70, Rev. Walter Grainge White is learning to dance.

He's mastered the waltz and the slow fox trot. Now he's tackling the tango with relish.

Until recently he was always the wallflower at the village Saturday-night dances.

So when the county council started a dancing class in the village hall, the vicar joined.

BEEF ON TAX BILL LEGITIMATE

SAN MATEO, Calif., June 21.—(UP)—Edward C. Watson, airport operator, took a look at his $18,000 tax bill wheeled out a plane and called the city tax assessor. A short hop over Watson's real estate holdings convinced the assessor that most of the land was indeed under water. He lopped $4,800 off the bill.

Jail Term Is Appealed

CALGARY, June 21.—(CP)—Eleven grounds are given by Edward J. McCormick in his notice of appeal filed in supreme court yesterday on behalf of John Bennett, 76-year-old Calgary laborer, who was sentenced to two years less a day in Lethbridge jail last May 19, after having been found guilty of manslaughter.

Bennett was sentenced by Mr. Justice J. Boyd McBride in criminal assizes for the manslaughter of John Scheuchner, a 72-year-old fellow employe at the A. B. Cushing Mills Ltd., March 28, after his second trial, the jury having disagreed at the first.

Mr. McCormick, in the notice, says the appeal is against sentence only and asks that the case be heard at the next sitting of the court of appeal. Main ground of appeal is: that the trial judge erred in imposing such an excessive sentence having regard to the age of the appellant and his infirm physical condition.

Gov't Boiler Inspector Dies

CALGARY, June 21.—(CP)—Wm George Singer, 66, of Red Deer, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ian Roberts, in Calgary yesterday. He was boiler inspector for the Alberta government for the last 13 years.

Native of Wakefield, England, Mr. Singer came to Edmonton in 1911 and later was steam engineer in charge of boiler plants at Redcliffe, Ponoka and Wayne, Alta., before moving to Red Deer 10 years ago.

Besides his sister here, survivors include a sister, Mrs. Arthur Warrington of Edmonton, and a sister and brother living at the Pacific coast.

Plant Expansion Problem Solved

BUFFALO, N.Y., June 21.—(UP)—The problem of plant expansion in England, where building materials are extremely scarce, was solved efficiently by Trico Products Corp. of Buffalo. The local concern shipped overseas a complete ready-made factory for its British subsidiary. The prefabricated building will cover more than two acres.

MOTHER GETS REMAND SO KIDS EVADE JAIL

VANCOUVER, June 21.—(CP)—A woman doll one week was granted today to a Vancouver mother of four, who has been convicted of failing to light the hairs of her house.

Mrs. Bertha Sinclair was fined $25 or five days in jail last Friday for the offence and she said then she would take her children to jail with her.

Conviction followed charges that as a rooming house operator she failed to provide adequate lighting. She claimed she is destitute.

Her landlord offered to pay her bill but he wants her to move. She can't find another home, she says.

Roomers were using candles after the power was cut off.

EIGHT-OUNCE BABY, Grace Louese Cotton was born June 3 in Cleveland, O. Tiniest premature baby ever to live a week in Glenville Hospital's 41-year history, Baby Grace arrived three months early. Two days later her birth weight of a pound and six ounces slipped to eight ounces. Fighting for survival she was back to a pound and two ounces a week after her birth and doctors say she has a fair chance.

School Teacher Face Bigger Jobs

600,000 More Pupils by '53 To Need 18,000 New Teachers

OTTAWA, June 21.—(CP)—A big job looms for the Canadian school teacher.

The Bureau of Statistics reports today that by 1953 there'll be another 600,000 pupils added to the current enrolment of about 1,800,000 in elementary schools.

And by 1959—six years later—it expects high schools to swell by an additional 800,000 over the present enrolment of about 1,000,000.

EXPANSION NEED

In fact, says the Bureau of Statistics after completing a biennial survey of elementary and secondary education, in another four or five years it's going to take at least another 18,000 teachers to cope with the teaching job.

It will mean "a great expansion in the educational system," the bureau says. New schools, additional classrooms and more equipment will be needed.

Judging from the climb in educational costs during the last eight years, it's going to cost a lot more to teach the little lad his A-B-C's than it did, say, in 1941.

COSTS SOARING

At the root of this big expansion is the increased birth rate during the 1940's, along with increased immigration, greater use of transportation to get the kid to school and bigger and better school administration.

Here's an idea of how the costs are soaring. In 1941 local school boards spent $8.30 for every person in the community on elementary and secondary education. In 1946 they were spending $13.70 on a per capita basis.

The cost per pupil varied from province to province. In 1946 it was $45 in Prince Edward Island and $116 in British Columbia. Average for eight provinces was $106. And the provincial share in the cost rose from $28,000,000 in 1944 to $52,000,000 two years later.

Kaiser Granddaughter Married to Americans

By Jack Meehan

HECHINGEN, Germany, June 21.—(UP)—A granddaughter of Kaiser Wilhelm and an interior decorator from Texas were married twice today in 1,000-year-old Hohenzollern castle on a mountain top overlooking this quiet village.

But Princess Cecilie of Prussia, a refugee from the Soviet zone of Germany, did not promise to obey former U. S. Army Capt. Clyde Harris of Amarillo, Tex., in either the civil or the Protestant religious ceremony.

"That word," she explained, "is not for us."

Both ceremonies went off without a hitch, although they were in German—a language Harris does not understand. An interpreter helped and Harris said his "ja" in the appropriate places.

The religious ceremony was a double-ring affair. Cecilie gave Harris a ring which had been in the Hohenzollern family for generations. He gave her a gold band, but said it was "not as good as hers."

Cecilie said they would honeymoon for about 10 days, after which Harris would return to Amarillo to find a home for them.

"I hope to get there soon," she said wistfully. "Amarillo is such a beautiful name."

TOTEM POLE, SLIGHTLY USED, BEING SOUGHT

INDIANA, Pa., June 21.—(UP)—If anyone has an old totem pole he's not using, students at State Teachers College here are looking for one.

The town is named after the former prevalence of Indians in the area. The college athletic teams are referred to as the Braves or the Big Indians and the school symbol is the head of an Indian chief.

The editor of the student newspaper, also chairman of a committee to beautify the campus, says a totem pole is needed to keep improvements in line with tradition.

Lakes and rivers in Canada constitute over six per cent of the total area of the country.

5 STATES SUSPENDED BY AIR ORGANIZATION

MONTREAL, June 21.—(BUP)—The third assembly of the International Civil Aviation Organization ended here today after the voting powers of five countries were suspended at the final session.

The countries were suspended after they failed to pay their dues to the organization within the two year time limit allowed.

The countries affected were: Bolivia, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Paraguay and Trans-Jordan. Their representatives would not be excluded from regional meetings and the suspension would be revoked when all financial obligations are met, it was announced.

The assembly voted a budget of $2,810,607 for 1950. Of the total, $200,000 will come from ICAO's working capital fund and the remainder will be assessed to the 54 member nations with regard to their interest in international civil aviation and their ability to pay.

It was for failure to meet such payments in past five years the five nations were suspended.

The 1949 budget was $2,649,685.

Chiang Slated For Top Kuomintang Post

CANTON, China, June 21.—(UP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek will return to public life to help direct Nationalist China's struggle against the Communists, Premier Yen Hsi-Shan disclosed today.

Chiang will be chief of the Kuomintang's new supreme policy council, Yen said.

He emphasized that Chiang will resume an active government position. However, the Kuomintang is the government party and Chiang in his new opst will have a decisive voice in deciding the Nationalists' future policy.

RUMORS CONFIRMED

Chiang retired as president of China last January to give the government a chance to try to make peace with the Communists. The government failed, and there have been numerous rumors since that Chiang was about to return to power.

Yen's remarks confirmed for the first time that the Generalissimo's return is imminent. It was learned that government offices in Canton are being prepared for Chiang and his menage of guards and retainers.

Yen said the Nationalists plan to break completely with former government military strategy in opposing the Communist threat to remaining Nationalist territory. He said planes and ships will be used to enforce a blockade of Communist-held ports.

The Nationalist government last night notified all governments represented at Canton that it intends to blockade all Communist-held ports in China, from the coastal area north of the Ming river in Fukien province in the Hao river in Liaoning province.

Ships found in the area will be intercepted, the government said, and airlines serving the ports were warned to suspend their flights.

RARE BARGAIN IS REJECTED

CHICAGO, June 21.—(UP)—Mrs. Emily Pisha contributed an ancient phonograph to a rummage sale. A man bid $1 for it. Then he withdrew his bid because the lid failed to open. Auction workers pried the lid up and found a sugar sack containing $150 inside. They returned the money to Mrs. Pisha, who had forgotten about it.

JOHN BRACKEN DISCUSSES THE Progressive Conservative Policy —ON— GRAIN MARKETING

John Bracken Speaks:

There are six important facts that must be taken into account in determining what is the best marketing policy. They are as follows:

The first point to keep in mind is that the first Wheat Board had as it's primary function the marketing of Canadian grain, in the best interest of the farmer.

The FIRST Wheat Board Act was passed in 1935. The first Wheat Board under the Act was in every respect a Board functioning in the best interest of the farmer. It was not an agency of the Government, or subject to Government dictation as to prices.

The SECOND important point to remember is that in 1947, by an Act of Parliament the present Liberal Government amended the Wheat Board Act and made the Wheat Board an Agency of the Government, not an agency of the Producer.

The Government thus made the Wheat Board an agency, functioning not in the primary interest of the Producers, but rather one which had to carry out the Government's policy, even to selling the farmers' grain for less than the Wheat Board could have sold it.

The present Liberal Government thus provided that the Wheat Board was to become the agent of the Government, instead of continuing as it had been — the agent of the grain producers.

The actual amendments incorporated into the provisions of the Wheat Board Act, in order to make this change, read as follows: (I quote from the Statutory Amendment) —

"4 (2) The Board is for all purposes an agent of His Majesty in the right of Canada and it's powers under this Act may be exercised by it only as an agency of His Majesty in the said right:

(3) The Board . . . . shall possess the following powers:

(j) To act as agents for or on behalf of any Minister or agent of His Majesty in right of Canada, in respect of any operations that it may be directed to carry out by the Governor in Council."

The effect of these provisions in practice was that the Wheat Board was changed from being an agency of the Wheat Producers, charged with the responsibility for getting the best possible prices, to an agency of the Government which could use it, and did use it, and may still use it, to sell the farmers' grain at less than the market price. In other words, the Liberal Government, in 1947, usurped the original power of the Wheat Board, which was to market the farmers' products in the farmers' interests, and it took power to make the Board carry out certain Government policies, which were not in the best interests of the farmers.

The THIRD fact to keep in mind is that the Government then proceeded to exercise it's new powers and to use the Wheat Board, not in the interest of the primary producer, but in the interest of the Government itself. The Government having interfered with the Board's policies in 1946, forced the Board to deliver 600,000,000 bushels of the farmers' wheat to the British Government, over a four-year period, at an average of some 67c a bushel less than the Wheat Board got for the balance of the farmers' crops all those years. In other words, the Government, by this interference with the Wheat Board, lost to the farmers of Western Canada $400,000,000 in that one big gamble with the farmers' grain.

In addition to this, the Government also forced the Wheat Board to sell scores of millions of bushels of wheat to millers for consumption in Canada at prices far below the prevailing prices. This meant further huge losses to Western Farmers.

The FOURTH point to remember is that in 1948 the Government passed an Act to force every farmer who grows oats and barley to sell these products through the Wheat Board only. In other words, it denied to every farmer the right to sell oats and barley in any other way. This Act was to be proclaimed after the three Western Provinces passed complementary legislation. This has now been done and after August 1st the growers of oats and barley in Western Canada will be forced to sell their oats and barley through the Wheat Board only.

The FIFTH point to keep in mind is that in 1948 the organized farmers of Western Canada, speaking through the Canadian Federation of Agriculture at it's annual convention, urged that the Wheat Board be restored to it's original function — that of operating primarily in the interests of grain producers. This request was expressed in a resolution, which reads as follows:

"That such legislation (re oats and barley) be based upon the principles that the Wheat Board shall be an agency, operating primarily for the benefit and in the interests of grain producers."

The SIXTH fact to remember is that the above request of the organized producers was refused by the Government. The Board therefore still remains an agency of the Government and the Government insists that it remain so. The effect of this is two-fold: 1st, the Government has left it's amending legislation on the Statute Books; and 2nd, in answer to a question in the House of Commons as to whether the Government intended to use the Board primarily in the interests of the producers, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, Mr. Howe, answered in the negative. His words are to be found in Hansard, page 1421, under date of March 14th, 1949, as follows:

"It is obvious that the Government of Canada cannot give any undertaking that it will become responsible for the marketing of coarse grains, solely in the interests of the producer, and without regard to the interests of the consumer of these products."

In these two facts is found the official evidence of the Government's refusal to comply with the request of the organized farmers to have the Wheat Board restored to it's original function as a producers' agency.

GRAIN MARKETING — POLICY FOR THE FUTURE

What, under all these circumstances, should be the marketing policies of the farmers of Western Canada for the days ahead? What, under all these circumstances, are the policies in which I believe? What, under all these circumstances are the stated policies of the Party of which I am a member? They may be stated very briefly, and they ought to be understood by every grower of grain in Western Canada.

Our FIRST policy is to continue the Canadian Wheat Board as a permanent institution for the marketing of the farmers' grain crops.

Under no circumstances would the Board be disbanded by us. Our Party brought in this policy in the first place. Our Party has always favored it's continuance, and it believes in it more today than ever before.

Our SECOND policy is to continue the fight to force the Government to make the Wheat Board an agency which operates in the interest of the farmers, rather than a Government Agency, which has sold, and may again sell, the farmers' grain at less than the Wheat Board can sell it for.

Government interference with the Wheat Board is the greatest danger the farmer has to face. Complete emancipation of the Board from Government dictatorship is essential to it's success in the future.

Our THIRD policy in grain marketing is to leave entirely to the producers themselves the right to determine in what manner their grain shall be marketed. If the organized farmers, as a group, desire by a satisfactory majority, that coarse grains be continued under the Wheat Board, their wishes are to be respected and acceded to. If, after some experience with this plan, they desire to change it, they would have the right to do so.

Likewise, if the farmers desire to eliminate the futures market, it will be within their power to do so. In other words, the growers of grain in Western Canada may rest assured that the Progressive Conservative Party will not force upon them any type of marketing that the farmers themselves do not want or do not approve.

We believe in leaving to those who produce the nation's food the right to determine every aspect of the manner in which it shall be marketed.

These three principles are basic in our policy on grain marketing. These three principles I personally support. These three principles the Party of which I am a member supports. These three principles the organized farmers of Western Canada have requested. I know of no better long-term policy for the producers of grain in Western Canada.

In closing these remarks, let me give to every farmer my personal assurance that, these principles, which all grain growers will recognize as being in their interests, will continue to be our guide. They mark the most forward step ever taken in the emancipation of the farmer from outside interference in the marketing of his products.

These three policies leave the farmers, as a group, free from the domination of both Government and politicians who have sold, and may sell again, the farmers' grain at less than it is worth. These three policies remove the farmers from any undue domination by the Grain Trade, which many farmers feel has had too great a say as to how their grain should be marketed. These policies: Marketing without interference by Governments and Politicians, and without domination by the Grain Trade, should mark a long step forward in the farmers' marketing program.

The policies I have outlined, I do not need to point out, are in complete agreement with the principles discussed and approved at our National Convention of last October.

I trust that these three policies will meet with the widespread support they deserve from all grain growers, wherever they may live in Western Canada.

Sincerely,

JOHN BRACKEN.

Canadian Co. Dividends Are Above June '48

TORONTO, June 21.—Dividend payments by Canadian corporations for June of $60,806,983, as reported to J. R. Timmins & Co., are well above $54,637,626 for June 1948 and $48,134,608 for June two years ago. Cumulative total for the first six months of $213,075,578 is up from $193,635,934 for similar period of 1948 and $164,905,641 for the first half of 1947.

Dividends by mining companies feature the month's total, with payments by this group aggregating $18,015,618, compared with $14,504,110 and $12,786,276, respectively, for June 1948 and 1947. Payments by miscellaneous industrials for June are higher at $32,334,317, contrasted with $30,162,531 last year and with $25,672,398 in 1947. Stocks Move Up For Small Gains

Many Junior Golds Improve; Western Oil Issues Steady

TORONTO, June 21.—(CP)—Prices climbed slowly upwards today for the second successive session on the stock exchange. Key industrial issues added fractions. Golds were ahead on gains in junior producers and a comparatively wide list of base metals tightened. Western oils were steady. Volume was about 400,000 shares.

Steels, foods and utilities tightened in the steadily climbing industrial list. Papers were firmer while construction and financial institutions tended lower.

Senior golds were mixed and gains ranged up 10 cents in a wide list of key junior producers. Base metals opened slowly but gains began to appear in mid-session in increased trading.

NEW YORK, June 21.—(AP)—The stock market just barely maintained headway today after an opening rally failed to take hold. Changes either way were in minor fractions.

Business dropped abruptly following the morning buying rush. Turnover was about 800,000 shares.

The initial buying was a carryover from yesterday, when a sudden pick-up in demand gave the market a substantial lift.

The market dropped to a 4½-year low a week ago Monday and since then has made a couple of quite successful rallies. Today's try represented a follow-through. Wall Street is still in considerable doubt, though, whether the rally will get a good grip on the price ladder or whether new lows will be established.

Canadian issues were moderately active. Hiram Walker added ¼. Canadian Pacific eased ⅛. Dome Mines and Distillers Seagrams were unchanged.

On the curb, Lake Shore gained ⅛.

Industrial Index At Same Point As May Last Year

TORONTO, June 21.—Canadian Bank of Commerce index of industrial activity rose again in May to 159 (1937 equals 100), the point at which it stood in May last year. Mixed trends were apparent in the group indexes. Activity increased in the food and beverage, pulp and paper and non-metallic mineral units, while the automotive, chemical and miscellaneous section remained steady.

The wearing apparel, wood products (mainly lumber), iron and steel and non-ferrous metal groups showed decreased activity but not sufficient to counterbalance the increases elsewhere.

Value of new construction contracts undertaken in the first five months this year (according to MacLean Building Reports) was about $385 million, compared with $350 million during the same period of 1948.

PROMINENT Canadian industrialist, Allan Bronfman, of Montreal, recently was honored by the French government with the title of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. Mr. Bronfman was elected a director of Royalite Oil Co. Ltd. at the recent annual meeting.

Wheat Price Reaches $2

CHICAGO, June 21. — (AP) — Wheat bounded upward at the Board of Trade today, and $2 prices were marked up for the first time in a month.

The demand for the flour grain was broad, the result of reports of rust in unharvested winter wheat sections and light yields where the harvest is in.

The weekly government weather report said that spring wheat is generally only fair to good in the north central area and suffering from drought in the northwest.

Feed grains advanced in wheat, but corn was retarded by excellent growing weather over the main corn belt. Bookings on a to-arrive basis were placed at 65,000 bushels.

At the close wheat was 2½ to 3¾ higher than yesterday's close. Corn was ¼ lower to ¼ higher. Oats were unchanged to ¼ higher. Rye was 2 to 2½ cents higher. Soybeans were unchanged to 1¼ higher.

Trading Is Spurred By Lack of Moisture

WINNIPEG, June 21.—(CP)—Trading was fairly active on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, with lack of moisture over the grain belt prompting fair shipper and local demand in oats and barley futures.

Rye came in for American demand, while offerings were well-absorbed. Flax was not open.

The United Kingdom was allocated 1,000,000 bushels of wheat under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement.

Prices of class two wheat, for export to countries other than the United Kingdom, were unchanged.

London Stocks

LONDON, June 21.—(Reuters)—There was a further sharp fall today in British government stocks on the London Stock Exchange. Losses were up to ⅝ per cent and resulted from a wave of selling.

Offerings were again coming from industrial concerns and the institutions. Small support in late dealings produced an occasional rally but the undertone remained soft.

Industrials were inclined to follow the lead of gilt-edged but one or two of the leaders were resistant. Small gains were shown among the miscellaneous issues and the section closed slightly irregular.

News of United States capital for the free state gold field aroused interest in the South African mining district. Prices were quietly firmer.

International Note Dominates Meetings

TORONTO, June 21.—(CP)—The international note is the dominating one in virtually all gatherings this month. First was the Canadian International Trade Fair at Toronto, May 30-June 10, where scores of countries showed their goods.

Then, the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at St. Andrew's-by-the-Sea, N.B., June 7-9, had an unusually heavy quota of United States speakers.

The 12th biennial congress of the International Chamber of Commerce at Quebec, June 13-17, was, of course, a real world parliament of businessmen.

Now, the annual meeting of the Investment Dealers' Association for Canada at Minaki, Ont., from today until Friday, again recognizes the international scene by having two of its guest speakers from Europe.

EUROPEAN BANKERS

They are Alfred Pose of Paris and Pierre Bonovoisin of Brussels, both continental bankers.

The meeting also looks at perhaps the most exciting part of the domestic scene by having an address on western oil by C. O. Nickle of Calgary.

What impression does one get out of such gatherings? First, that there is no lack of demand in the world to keep things humming. Second, that upsets caused by the war are forcing countries to do things in immediate self-protection, which are threatening the existence of the trade which needs to be done. Third, that the best thought the world can muster is being brought to bear to find a way out of these handicaps.

ERP WITH PARALLEL

Now—if one is inclined to take a dim view of things—one might say there is a lot of talking without much being done.

One might say that—but it would not accord with post-war facts. Post-war history has been one of recurring crises for which the answers have been found just in time.

They have been found partly because of the amount of advance thinning which was done even before the war was over, and partly because of courageous action.

The outstanding instance of this is, of course, the European Recovery Program, an action of enlightened thinking probably without parallel in world history.

Monarch Officially Opens Britain's Colonial Month

LONDON, June 21.—(CP)—The King drove today through flag-decked London streets to Church House in Westminster to declare open Britain's "Colonial Month."

Showing no signs of the leg ailment which first affected him last autumn, His Majesty delivered a 20-minute address standing at a lectern. Later he stood to receive about 50 citizens from various colonies, presented by Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones.

Colonial Month is being staged by the colonial office with cooperation from various British societies and merchants with the idea of increasing the British public's knowledge of the vast colonial empire.

BUILDERS LAUDED

The King, dressed in morning clothes with a jaunty red flower in his lapel, spoke of the work of men who through long generations had built up the colonies. He said he is confident that their work will continue and that colonial peoples will draw increasing benefits from their British connections.

The Queen, wearing a smoky-grey dress and a matching hat, accompanied his majesty.

Among those presented to their majesties were Arthur Wint, Olympic runner from Jamaica; Leary Constantine of the West Indies, a famous test cricket player, and His Highness Raja Idris, Raja Muda of Perak.

JUNGLE DISPLAY

Following the Church House ceremony the King and Queen continued to one of the major features of Colonial Month, an exhibition in Oxford street showing many facets of life in the colonies.

The most spectacular thing in the exhibition is a bit of simulated jungle, heated to jungle temperature of about 110 degrees. The sound of monkeys chattering and tropical birds calling fills the fetid atmosphere.

The visitor picks his way through this tangle of plaster trees and vines into showrooms where he can see just about everything the colonies produce.

REPRESENTATIVE ART

There are sections of education, economic problems, health maintenance and so on. In another room is representative colonial art, ranging from the primitive work of the more backward peoples to some paintings which might have come from the easels of metropolitan sophisticates.

There are drums from the African bush telegraph and brass gods from Malayan temples.

$8 Million Loan Floated By B.C.

VICTORIA, B.C., June 21.—(CP)—Finance Minister Anscombe yesterday announced the sale of $8,000,000, three per cent 15-year debentures at a cost price to the province of 2.25 per cent.

The proceeds will be used to refund treasury bills.

The debentures are dated June 15 of this year and will mature June 15, 1964. The sale was made to a syndicate.

In a call for tenders, four syndicates representing 35 financial houses submitted bids.

American Soldier Hurt In North

CHURCHILL, Man., June 21.—(CP)—Cpl. Adams, working with a construction battalion here, was seriously injured today when knocked down and crushed by a truck.

Military officials said he has been flown to Winnipeg for further treatment. It is believed he suffered a broken pelvis and a ruptured liver. Adams reached here from Fort Belvoir, Va., June 4.

Federal Pension Costs To Hit $100 Millions

WINDSOR, Ont., June 21.—(CP)—Health Minister Martin, in an official announcement today, said the annual cost of pensions to the federal government will rise to approximately $100,000,000 as a result of agreements now completed or being completed with nine of the 10 provinces. Newfoundland is not included in the new plan.

Agreements extending a new $40 rate for old age and blind pensioners are effective from May 1, except in the case of Alberta, which dates from June 1.

Under terms of the Old Age Pensions Act, the federal government pays 75 per cent of the cost, with the provinces contributing the remaining 25 per cent and paying costs of administration. The provincial governments also set the date on which increased pensions become payable.

2/3 GET FULL BOOST

Mr. Martin said preliminary indications are that nine out of 10 pensioners will share in some degree in the recent $10 increase made by the federal government in the basic pension. About two-thirds will receive full benefit.

In Newfoundland the old rate of $30 a month is still in effect, but Premier Joseph Smallwood has indicated that his province wishes to enter into an agreement at the higher rate as soon as the provincial legislature can take necessary action, the minister said.

Apart from Newfoundland, pension payments in Canada now range from $40 to $50 a month, representing the total of the basic monthly pension and the provincial supplement.

Disney In U.K. For Live Film

LONDON, June 21.—(Reuters)—Walt Disney has arrived in England to start production of "Treasure Island," his first film with live actors instead of animated characters. Treasure Island will be Easter Island in the Severn estuary, and the Admiral Benbow Inn will be on a rugged part of the Cornish coast. A three-masted, square-rigged schooner will serve as the Hispaniola.

Shipyard Heads Will Be Tried

HAMBURG, June 21.—(AP)—The owners of Germany's largest shipyard today were committed for trial on charges of illegally removing machinery scheduled for reparations. A British magistrate sent to a higher court for trial of the more backward peoples of the more backward peoples of Blohm, who own 80 per cent of the shares of the Blohm and Voss shipyard here. The brothers are charged with removing 240 pieces of machinery earmarked for reparations to Allied countries.

Congressional Wrangling Said Not Omen of Defeat

By George Ronald

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(CP)—Congressional wrangling over President Truman's legislative program is not, in itself, an omen of defeat.

Each new delay is a setback for the "Fair Deal" platform on which Truman was elected last November. But there is no evidence so far that congress has definitely turned thumbs down on either the program or the president.

It is true that little has been done about Truman's major proposals; it true also that none of them has been defeated. At best, however, the executive house of representatives are taking their own sweet time about things.

ELECTION TEMPER

In the background is the fact that members of the house are up for re-election next year and that many "Fair Deal" items would provide good campaign material. Closer to the surface is the trend toward economy and legislators' unwillingness to vote for big expenditures before learning at first hand what the people back home think about it.

Furthermore, whatever action is taken before congress recesses will be on the credit side of the ledger when the law-makers meet again next January. It will be the same senate, the same house and the same program—and votes may be more frequent when the life of the 80th congress starts to ebb and autumn elections appear on the political horizon.

FIREWORKS

Decision on the date of the recess may touch off some fireworks. Truman and his lieutenants want some major part of the "Fair Deal" written into law before congress breaks off. But many congressmen now are talking about a July 31 recess—regardless.

Some observers refer to three pieces of "must" legislation: the North Atlantic treaty, a substitute for the Taft-Hartley labor law and the reciprocal trade legislation.

Sam Rayburn (Dem. Tex.), speaker of the house of representatives, puts it this way:

"Before congress adjourns, it is going to enact a very full and constructive program. There has been no agreement among leaders of congress and the white house for exclusion of any legislation."

HAVE TO LEAVE SOME

Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois, Democratic leader in the senate, describes the situation thus:

"We had a program that couldn't possibly be enacted by any congress in seven months (the length of the current session if it runs to July 31). We have to leave a few good things until next year."

One prediction is that the three "must" matters together with Marshall plan and domestic rent control legislation already passed, might be considered a "major part" of the Truman program. If the administration thought so, a July 31 recess might suit everybody.

Ocean Treasure Hunt Gets Warm

51-Year-Old Wreck Found By Deep-Sea Diving Pair

POINT PLEASANT, N.J., June 21.—(UP)—Two young deep sea divers saw a 13-year dream of finding $250,000 in sunken gold treasure, coming true today.

Floyd Sharp Jr., 31, and William Conway, 35, reported they had found the 51-year-old wreck of the liner S.S. Delaware, believed to have a quarter of a million dollars in gold aboard, and have begun exploring it.

"We've found signs of the gold aboard," Conway said. "But we'll have more to say about that sometime next week."

He refused to elaborate.

LONG INTERESTED

Sharp explained that his interest in the wreck began in 1936, at the time Simon Lake, the late inventor of the submarine, led an expedition to recover the treasure, but ran out of funds before locating it.

Sharp, who was then 18, dreamed of someday finding the treasure for himself. He began to collect all the information he could about the matter. And resolved to become a professional deep sea diver. A letter he wrote to the Ward Steamship Line, owner of the vessel, verified that the $250,000 gold had been aboard when the Delaware sank on July 9, 1808.

He found five men still alive in Point Pleasant who remembered witnessing the sinking of the ship. From them he got bearings on where they thought the wreck was. He made charts. And he went into partnership with his old friend Conway who helped him purchase $4,000 in salvage equipment.

WRECK FOUND

Several months ago they Legan working with a dragger in the vicinity witnesses had pointed out. And on June 10 they found the wreck lying in 68 feet of water just off the coast.

"We've been diving down almost every day since," Sharp said. "The hull is rotten and only about 100 feet of the 200-foot vessel still are intact. The rest of the ship is spread around the bottom."

They work in two to four hour shifts, taking care to make sure the vessel doesn't cave in while they are aboard it.

Asked what they would do with the $250,000 if they recover it, Sharp answered:

"What do you mean, what will we do with the money? We're poor people. We'll probably start our own salvage company. And sock the rest of it away."

Tito's Gov't Denounces Big 4 Decision

BELGRADE, June 21.—(AP)—With "deepest bitterness" Yugoslavia today announced the decision of the Big Four foreign ministers rejecting her claim for Austrian territory and reparations.

A formal statement was issued by the foreign affairs ministry of Marshal Tito's government on the results of the Big Four meeting adjourned yesterday in Paris.

Yugoslavia said she would "never renounce her justified territorial claims to Slovene-Carinthia (in the southern part of Austria or her claim to reparations payments on the part of Austria—namely compensation for damage suffered during the last war, or to any other justified claim against Austria."

Sunday Gas Sale Gets Fine In B.C. But Not In Alta.

VANCOUVER, June 21.—(CP)—Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson yesterday fined garage attendant Les Johnson $25 for selling gasoline on a Sunday. His decision disagreed with an Alberta Supreme Court ruling which declared such sales legal under the Lord's Day Act.

Johnson had based his defence on the Alberta court's ruling. Magistrate Matheson said he was not bound by the Alberta court and declared he must find Johnson guilty despite what he called "my seeming lack or respect for the higher court."

The station owner, Arnold Lucas, contended that the city bylaw banning sales on Sunday is illegal under the Lord's Day Act.

Slain Police Buried Today

SUDBURY, Ont., June 21.—(CP)—Officers from several Ontario police departments will attend the funeral today of two fellow policemen, among three persons killed here Saturday night by Clarence Brosseau, 45-year-old factory worker, who later killed himself.

The policeman, Edvard Terrell and Gerard Dault, and bystander James Germa, 50, were fatally shot by Brosseau, who held off 100 police and gun-brandishing citizens for two hours after a domestic quarrel. Five other persons were injured.

Sudbury officials said they expect at least 50 representatives from other police departments throughout the province.

Unidentified Sub Sighted Off Florida Coast

MIAMI, Fla., June 21.—(AP)—The United States Coast Guard said today an unidentified submarine has been reported off the south Florida coast.

Three navy plans from the hurricane-hunting squadron in Miami searched during the night without finding a trace of the craft.

Then the coast guard said the case had been listed as "classified" and that no further information could be obtained here. Coast Guard headquarters in Washington restricted the case on orders from the navy.

The submarine first was sighted by a coast guardsman from the beach near Miami.

SMASH-GRAB REVERSED, BOY TELLS

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—(UP)—Harvey Bornstein, a studious 16-year-old, groped his way into the Wilshire police station to report that a middle-aged man came up and snatched his specs while he was playing on the street with another boy. Then the stranger held his open hand up before Harvey and asked:

"How many fingers do you see?"

"Five," said Harvey instinctively.

"Hell, you don't need glasses," said the stranger. He threw the spectacles on the street, stamped on them and walked away.

Executions Are Upheld

SIMLA, India, June 21.—(AP)—An east Punjab high court today confirmed a death sentence against two Hindu journalists for the slaying of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

The court confirmed a New Delhi court's death penalty against Narayan V. Godse and Harayan B. Apte and sentences of life imprisonment for Vishnu Karkare and Madan Lal, in connection with the crime.

The Punjab court reversed the Delhi Tribunal's judgement in the case of three other defendents in the case, however. They acquitted Baltraya Parchure and Kistayya Shankar, both of whom had been sentenced to life.

The court recommended clemency for Gopal Godse, brother of the chief defendant, who had received life.

New Italy Strike Hampers Shipping

GENOA, June 21.—(AP)—Italian shipping in this port city is tied up by a strike of seamen which began Saturday. Foreign shipping has not yet been affected. The seamen are protesting the government's alleged failure to pay pensions and unemployment compensation on time to unemployed and retired sailors.

Racing Chief Refutes Charges of Minister

WINNIPEG, June 21.—(CP)—R. James Speers, general manager of Winnipeg Polo Park, today hit back at Dr. W. E. Donnelly of Young United Church whose sermon Sunday called for city businessmen to organize a drive to ban horse racing.

Dr. Donnelly had said Winnipeggers spent more than $6,000,000 on race-track gambling in 28 days last year, out of which promoters paid back only $207,500 in winnings.

"The only reason for Dr. Donnelly making such a statement," Mr. Speers said, "would be complete lack of information. No one who knows Dr. Donnelly would ever accuse him of deliberate misrepresentation, however much he may dislike horse racing and wagering.

GET EIGHT PER CENT

Mr. Speers then explained in his statement "the facts are that while accepting the figure of $4,000,000 passing through the pari-mutuel machine as being accurate, the take-out by the racing organization was $320,00 or the eight-per-cent commission permitted by law.

"Provincial government tax would be $400,000 or 10 per cent. The balance, $3,280,000, would be paid out to the successful wagerers."

Mr. Speers said the figure $207,500 referred to by Dr. Donnelly as "winnings," actually represents the purses offered at the meet and which becomes the property of the owners of winning horses.

OTHER EXPENSES

"If one deducts the $207,500 from the racing organization takeout of $320,000, one has left $112,500 which is used to pay salaries, advertising, upkeep of plant; in short, general administration costs which are unavoidable with all undertakings of a business character."

As for Dr. Donnelly's remark: "Think what that money would have done if put into the arteries of trade," Mr. Speers replied "Where does this money go if not into the arteries of trade?"

World Asks Cdn. Goods

VANCOUVER, June 21.—(CP)—A world demand for Canadian farm equipment was reported today by members of the International Federation of Agriculture.

On a tour of western Canada, following meetings in Guelph, Ont., the group attended a luncheon of British Columbia Federation of Agriculture. Later, they toured rich Delta farmlands.

"We would like to buy 7,000 tractors from Canada," said Surrendra Reddi of India, and R. G. Buckleton of New Zealand added: "We want to spend $10,000,000 for farm machinery. Our equipment was depleted by war needs."

Spokesmen from other countries told the same story. All hope to free dollars to make the purchases.

SOLDIERS FROM Royal 22nd Regiment, stationed permanently in Citadel try out their wireless sets on ramparts of ancient fort, with Chateau Frontenac in the background. Ptes. H. O'Neil, left, of Quebec City and R. Duguay of Alma Lake, St. John, are seen in the foreground. Reconstruction of soldiers' barracks in the Citadel at present underway will make these quarters equal to finest in world. (Canadian Army Photo).

Modern Army Barracks Being Built at Citadel

QUEBEC CITY, June 21.—One of the most modern army barracks in the world is now under construction within the walls of one of Canada's oldest fortifications, the ancient Citadel at Quebec City.

The elaborate modernization scheme intended to brighten up the interior of the austere old fortress is expected to be completed next winter, and Quebec's only active force infantry unit, the Royal 22nd Regiment, will then have what Defence Minister Brooke Claxton believes will be "a barracks unequalled anywhere in the world."

LUXURIES

One 80-men barracks is already complete and two more are being equipped with all the modern luxuries of home-living. Included in the renovation scheme are new kitchens, canteen and a museum with over 2,000 valuable military historic exhibits. The latter is to be housed in the oldest building, now serving as a munition cache, inside the ancient fortress.

The actual works of the citadel were commenced in April 1820 and the job was completed in 1832. Of course, some of the buildings in this vast enclosure were erected in the years following.

SAME SITE TODAY

Early in the 18th century, while the French were masters of Canada, fortifications were erected to protect the capital, Quebec. These works of defence were built practically on the same sites as those existing today.

After the British had defeated the French Army on the Heights of Abraham and finally taken possession of Canada, they took great care to repair the admirably constructed fortifications of their predecessors and completed them by erection of the Citadel of Quebec.

VIMY CROSS HERE

British troops were garrisoned in the Citadel from 1760 to 1871. They were followed by the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery, who in turn were replaced by Royal 22nd Regiment in 1920. The latter have been permanently stationed there ever since, except during Second World War.

The original cross erected on Vimy ridge in memory of those who fell with units of the 2nd Division was given in 1923 to the Royal 22nd Regiment, a unit of the Division. It was restored last fall and remains in the Citadel.

SCARE WASN'T IN HEADLINES

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 21.—(UP)—The scare Mrs. Letha Edgemon got from the Illinois State Journal did not come from "scare headlines."

Mrs. Edgemon called up the newspaper to tell how, when she unwrapped her paper, a garter snake fell out. The snake had crawled inside the rolled paper as it lay on her front porch.

HAVE DUAL NATIONALITY

2,500 Britons Live In Germany By Choice

By ALAN DREYFUSS

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 21—(Reuters)—Virtually unnoticed by the world, some 2,500 British "expatriates" are continuing by choice, to make their home in this war-ravaged country where they spent the war years.

Officials of the British Red Cross say the 2,500 whose numbers include men, women and children, live in the three western zones and Berlin. The "expatriates," all of whom are still technically British subjects through birth or marriage to British nationals, have generally no intention of permanently leaving the country where they have spent the last 10 to 35 years.

Many "expatriates" have dual Anglo-German nationality and many with friends in the British Isles have managed to make a trip to the "Old Country" since the end of the war.

Although scattered throughout Germany, these British-born wives, children and husbands of Germans have mostly congregated in large cities. Hamburg is Germany's "London" in this respect with more British "expatriates" than any other city. It is followed by Berlin, Frankfurt, Stuttgart, Munich, Baden and Duesseldorf.

Many doors leading to the small dark apartments occupied by the "expatriates" are decorated with paper Union Jacks pasted on the wood. Some of the "expatriates" sport tiny British flags in the lapels of their jackets and coats.

Clergy's Duty Outlined By Apostolic Delegate

QUEBEC, June 21.—(CP)—Most Rev. Ildebrando Antoniutti, apostolic delegate to Canada told a large gathering of French-speaking bishops and priests from all parts of Canada last night, the clergy should be on the side of those "who suffer, those who weep, and those who are persecuted."

The apostolic delegate addressed the opening of the priests' Eucharistic League three day congress, being attended by 20 Roman Catholic bishops and 1,500 priests.

Thursday night a pontifical high mass under the stars will be held and thousands are expected. The famed statue of the Virgin Mary from Cap de la Madeleine, Quebec shrine will be exposed for public veneration.

YOUTH NOT AFRAID

In his speech last night, the apostolic delegate said that youth was not afraid of sacrifice, that it tended towards heroic actions. "Only dullness stops youth," he said.

The speaker asked priests to show youth that they are associated "in thought and fact" with all those who desire to "rise above this poor world which surrounds us."

Most Rev. Maurice Roy, Archbishop of Quebec, who presided at the ceremony, introduced the apostolic delegate calling him "the Pope in our midst."

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—The United States Air Force has started to put into effect its new policy to provide equality of treatment for Negroes in the service. As a first step it closed the all-Negro 332nd fighter wing stationed at Columbus, Ohio. Sixty-six Negro officers have been reassigned to new stations.

Labor Turnover Always Costly

CHICAGO.—(UP)—The average small plant loses from $20 to $300 every time a factory worker quits or is fired, and even more if the employes are highly skilled, according to the current issue of Commerce Magazine.

Election Drive Enters Stretch

Drew Says Party Intends To Defend Prov. Autonomy

The campaign for next Monday's federal election is moving swiftly through the home stretch with national party leaders pressing their bids for popular support.

Prime Minister St. Laurent made his appeal in the capital last night at a rally at which Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, his predecessor, presided and joined him in calling for a fresh mandate for the Liberal administration.

Progressive Conservative leader Drew campaigned in Quebec City and, speaking in both English and French, bespoke his party's intention to "remain determined defenders of the autonomy of the provinces."

CCF GAIN SEEN

M. J. Coldwell, confining the remainder of his campaign to Saskatchewan, told a rally in Regina that the CCF will make a substantial gain in Ontario at the expense of the Liberals.

Mr. St. Laurent criticized Mr. Drew for attacks on the federal civil service and said he wondered whether democracy can carry on "in a public torrent of allegations that public men are dishonest, lying and deceiving." Mr. Drew's statements about cabinet members are "gravely disturbing."

Mr. King, who moved to the political sidelines last November because of ill-health, called for a Liberal victory "so pronounced" that over the next few years it will serve to strengthen Mr. St. Laurent in his leadership of the country and strengthen Canada's position among the nation's of the world.

ONE POLICY FOR CANADA

Mr. Drew, addressing a meeting in Quebec's big drill hall, said the Progressive Conservative party has one policy for all of Canada. He pledged himself to continue, if elected to power, the co-operation he had established with Quebec when he was premier of Ontario.

Mr. Coldwell predicted that Ontario will show "a major upsurge" in CCF strength on election day. Many of the seats the CCF expects to take are in areas held by Liberals in the last parliament. Liberals can not hold their own "after the CCF is through with them."

In Toronto, Lawrence Skey, Progressive Conservative member of the last commons for Toronto Trinity, charged that Communists canvassers in his constituency are threatening electors who do not intend to vote for them. They copy down house numbers of the voters and "threaten to come back."

Mr. St. Laurent left Ottawa last night for Toronto, where he speaks tonight. For the rest of the week he campaigns in Quebec and Newfoundland.

BUSY ROUND

During a busy day yesterday in Quebec, Mr. Drew accompanied by Mrs. Drew, called on church leaders, Premier Duplessis, and dropped in at the offices of the Progressive Conservative party.

The Progressive Conservative leader was cheered when he delivered part of his 40-minute speech last night in French.

Chess Meet Is Planned

CALGARY: June 21.—(CP)—A team of 40 players will represent Saskatchewan, Alberta and the Kootenay's district of British Columbia in a continent-wide chess tournament scheduled for July 3, W. R. Louden of Calgary announced last night.

Mr. Louden, vice-president of the Chess Federation of Canada, said the team will meet a regional United States team representing Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and the Spokane district of Washington state. The two teams will meet at Waterton Lakes. He said some of the players taking part will fly as far away as Caspar, Wyoming, Saskatoon and Athabasca, Alta., to compete.

At the same time a team of 50 players representing British Columbia will meet another U.S. squad at Seattle, Manitoba will play a Minot team and eastern Canada players will meet opponents from the U.S. close to their own areas.

200 PERSONS BATTLE $50,000 STORE FIRE

WINKLER, Man., June 21.—(BUP)—Fire estimated at $50,000 last night completely destroyed the Co-Operative store here despite efforts of some 200 persons gathered from neighboring towns to combat the blaze.

Goods in the store were said to be worth $35,000 and the building itself $15,000.

When the flames first broke out, all employes and management were out of the store, and it was locked for the night. At the first sign of the flames carried by a strong wind, it was realized by fire officials that it would be useless to attempt to extinguish them in the store itself. Instead, the fire department concentrated on protecting neighboring stores that were only a few feet away from the burning structure.

A radio call to neighboring centres brought hundreds of people to the town to help in fighting the fire. At one time it was estimated that close to 5,000 people were gathered in the little town watching the fire brigades from Morden and Altona join with local firemen in the fight.

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Judy Holliday is back in town for another try at the movies. She's doing much better this time, thank you.

Judy played the wise-cracking roommate of the junk dealer (Paul Douglas) in "Born Yesterday" on Broadway. She was merely a sensation and eased out of the role after three years and three months.

She now is braving the film industry in "Adam's Rib," with Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn. She was given Mary Astor's dressing room and is generally being treated as a dignitary. 'Twas not always so with her in Hollywood.

One of the hilarious scenes of "Born Yesterday" was one in which Judy played gin rummy, and that's how I found her on the set. She was playing with Jean Hagen, a recent import from Broadway who once was Judy's understudy. They gave up the game while Judy told about her previous experience in Lima.

NOTHING HAPPENED

She was under contract to 20th-Fox, but nothing happened. Finally she learned she had a role in a wartime musical, "Something for The Boys."

Judy was enthused until she learned she had one line. She complained to a studio official.

"It's only one line," "Sure," he answered, "but like a long line"

"And," he said, adding the clincher, "the picture's in color!"

The actress complained to her agent. He listened, then replied, "but it's in color!"

So she did the part. When she reported for work, she discovered she was to play a war worker—dressed in overalls, bandanna on her hair and goggles over her eyes.

"What's more, it was a comedy line, so I had to read it fast," she recalls. "That was their idea of a comedy line—read it fast."

After a bit in "Winged Victory," she headed back to Broadway, which acclaimed her talents. She's going back there again, as soon as she finishes "Adam's Rib." She's angling a play for the fall.

CAPSULE REVIEW

"The Great Gatsby" (Par) struggles to recreate the lost generation of the 20's. It never quite succeeds, perhaps because that era now seems unreal and unbelievable. The F. Scott Fitzgerald characters never come entirely to life. Alan Ladd tries hard as the fated young opportunist. He's supported by Betty Field, Macdonald Carey, Ruth Hussey and Barry Sullivan.

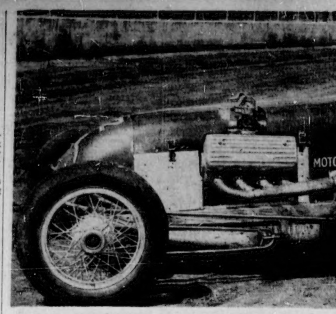
Speedway Racing Returns

Speedway racing returns to Edmonton this weekend when 20 crack American drivers invade the city for a two-day stand. Sponsored by Auto Racing Inc., the races will be run off at the Exhibition grounds Friday and Saturday, commencing at 7:30 each evening.

Among the drivers will be Emery Collins and Roy Yauger, two of the better known big car chauffeurs in the game today. Collins, a former Calgary resident, is recognized as the American dirt track champion, and Yauger is reported to be a consistent winner.

Big car racing is fast, hotly competitive, requires skill and nerve, and involves a lot of noise. In the post-war era it has become one of the most widely patronized attractions in the United States.

Development of the brutish Offenhauser motors has increased the tempo of the big cars. Yauger will be driving the Frame Offenhauser, a car designed by Fred Frame and housing a Offenhauser motor. This is the same car which took the life of Frame's son in a wreck at Owatonna, Minnesota.



'DIRT TRACK' RACING will be revived in Edmonton Friday and Saturday when Auto Racing Incorporated stages a big car competition at the Exhibition oval. Roy Yauger, (above) Austin, Minn., is one of 20 top American speedway race drivers who will compete. He will drive the Frame Offenhauser, designed by Fred Frame, former Indianapolis '500' winner.

Berry May Get Boxing Permit

Jack Berry may be granted a boxing permit by the city commissioners according to a report yesterday from the office of Mayor Harry Ainlay. Commissioners acted on a recommendation from the Edmonton Boxing and Wrestling commission.

Conditions are that the former Edmonton boxer declare his card before July 1 and that he arrange to have participants paid on a percentage basis or post bond sufficient to take care of all obligations.

Berry has not been heard from since announcing 10 days ago that Ben Geary, former western Canadian welterweight champion would headline his card "sometime in July."

Ritchie Mites Pace Soccer League

Ritchie took over first place in the city Recreation Commission's Mite Soccer league last night by edging Calder 2-1 at the latter's grounds.

After Ritchie had taken a 1-0 lead in the first half on a penalty kick from the toe of Laurel Cook, Marcel Gagnon deadlocked the count for Calder with only a minute left.

The visiting team sewed up the game by marching up the field after the kick-off and notching the winner on a goal by Gordon Haggis with less than 20 seconds remaining.

Waterous Socks Harvesters 12-4

Waterous downed International Harvesters 12-4 in a Men's Intermediate ball Fastball league tilt last night.

R. Hanson packed the biggest stick of the night, connecting for a homer and triple for the IHC cause. W. Foss also banged out a round-tripper for the losers.

Love Leaves When Esks, Cubs Clash

Local Big 4 Clubs Continue Feudin' and 'Fussin' Tonight

The feudin' and 'fussin' may not reach the proportions of that of the Hatfields and McCoys at Renfrew park tonight but the action is bound to be spirited when Eskimos and the pace-setting Cubs have at each other in a Big Four Baseball league encounter.

Perhaps it's a little too early yet for the feeling between the two local entries in the inter-city loop to have reached the boiling-over point. But this is for certain, even though the season is little more than a month old!

There's no love lost between them.

In fact last time out—as Cubs made it two wins over Esks in as many nights—tongues were used overtime, with members of both camps eagerly taking turns at the jockeying that enlivened the exchanges.

Amid suggestions of 'bean-ball' Esk pitcher Clarence Mellbye and Cub outfielder 'Slim' Clovinski (the gent supposedly getting 'throwed at') came close to swapping punches. It didn't help when Mellbye, heatedly denying the charge, told Clovinski pal-o-mine "You're not a good enough hitter to start throwing at."

DUCEY VS EDWARDS

Cub manager Les Edwards (it's no secret the Esk camp generally feels Edwards is "high on himself") and Esk general manager John Ducey spoke bitter words before the game ever got underway.

There were other incidents that served to highlight the growing tension between the clubs as Esks, league champions last season, try to get used to the idea of the hitherto impotent Cubs holding down top spot in the standings.

Edwards likely will send the league's only 'Tuesday night pitcher,' Morrie Hawkey against Ralph Morgan's Eskimos in tonight's game.

Last time Hawkey faced Esks his mates got him 23 runs and he cousted to an easy win despite giving up 17 hits. Morgan promises there'll be no repetition of this tonight. In all probability the Esk leader will shoot with Jack Devine, the Saskatchewan right-hander who has been showing better form of late.

Esks who have won 11 of their last 15 games, have only one idea in mind: to get to the top—"where we belong," as some of them put it.

CUBS HANG TOUGH

But Cubs are going to prove rough before relinquishing—if they do—the pacemaker's role. Sponsor Frank Wolfe, general-manager L. A. (Lefty) Grove and field-head Edwards between them have done a fine job of assembling a team capable of winning in the Big Four loop.

And with most of the fans, Cubs emtrgeance from the league underground rates as the most pleasing development of the 1949 season.

The Motormen, it must be admitted, are but popular with Renfrew park patrons.

It was a mangled Cub team that returned home after a five-game week-end series with Calgary Purity. Jack Hobson operated on his injured knee, Doug Stevenson may have a broken finger, and Vern Callihan was hit in the eye with a line drive. As well, Alex Omeius was hit on the elbow.

BILL HUNTER SIGNS MYLES

REGINA, June 21—(CP)—Bill Hunter, manager of the Saskatoon Quakers of the Western Canada Hockey league, announced here last night he had signed Vic Myles of the Regina Capitals.

Hunter said Myles, 220-pound defence veteran and one-time New York Ranger, had obtained his release from the Caps.

Outlaws, Oilers In 'B' Final

George Morris, president of the Senior Fastball league, announced last night that Runte's Outlaws and Texaco Oilers had qualified to play off for the right to represent the loop in northern Alberta playoffs. The two teams, currently running one-two in the league standing, will play a best-of-three final in early July. First two games are scheduled for July 3 and 5 with the third game, if necessary, slated for July 7.

Highlands Triumphs

Highlands lassies took the measure of Rossdale 12-4 in an Intermediate Girls' Community Fastball league tilt played at Highlands last evening.

Outlaws Man to Beat In City Net Meet

Civil Service Ace Lauded By Andy 'Shorts' Purcell

Andy (Shorts) Purcell, the onetime city tennis champion who still "fools around"—as he puts it—in the doubles events, had a word or two to say about provincial champ Gordon McLaws while the matches of the annual net tourney were in progress at Glenora club last night.

"Yes," Purcell emphasized, "he's a real good one. I rate him right there with Bill Stark and that kind. (Stark, a Calgary product like McLaws, ruled the provincial and western Canada roost a dozen years back.)

"He's got good ground strokes and can play the net, too. What's more he knows when to go into the net. And that's mighty important."

BEARS OUT HIGH RATING

Even as Purcell made with his blue-print of McLaws that worthy was busy on court No. 1 polishing off Jack Windish in a men's singles encounter. As though to bear out Purcell's high rating of him McLaws, almost without taking a deep breath, made it a 6-0, 6-0 conquest of his Civil Service clubmate.

It should be mentioned at this point that while McLaws got 'his start' in Calgary he is spending the current summer in Edmonton, probably by way of soaking up some 'big city' atmosphere.

Seriously, the University of Alberta graduate is the man to beat for men's singles laurels in the tournament that got underway at the week-end.

Continued good weather, while a pain in the neck to farmers and gardners, has tournament officials such as committee-chairman Graham Cathro, draw secretary Ian Macdonald, Helen Lilly and more almost doing cart-wheels.

"We've run off something like 175 matches already," Macdonald said with enthusiasm when the last ball had been hit for the day.

STOTT, RICHARD ADVANCE

Johnny Stott, seeded No. 3 behind McLaws and defending champion Dr. Hal Richard, likewise advanced in the singles division. Stott, the redhead from Civil Service, turned back Stan Copp, likewise from the club on Parliament Hill, 6-1, 6-2 in an interesting contest.

One of the best matches of the day saw Stott and Dr. Richard, last year's winners of the Jack Oliver Memorial trophy, emblematic of men's doubles supremacy, outlast Bob Cameron and Jimmy Hoyle 6-2, 6-4 to advance to the semi-finals of the men's doubles event.

Across the net: While the warm weather has everybody tied in with the tournament feeling in high good fettle there has been the odd beef about the dryness of the courts . . . Seems certain of the contestants can't understand why the courts can't be watered once or twice during the day . . . This used to be automatic in 'the old days'.

Dr. Richard, McLaws and Stott have reached the eighths of the men's singles . . . Enid Dowdle, the basketball star, and partner Helen Carr, stopped Cal Holmgren and Grace Wilson 7-5, 6-3 in a ladies' doubles tiff . . . This was one of the hardest fought clashes of the day . . . Miss Wilson is city ladies' badminton champion.

Gord Pearson Powers EAC to Third Place

A castoff catcher from CNR has been worth his weight in base hits to EAC of the Junior Baseball league in recent weeks. And when he blasted a ninth-inning home run at Clarke Stadium last night to break a 9-9 tie with Maple Leafs, EAC could thank him for hoisting them into third place.

This spring Gordon Pearson wasn't good enough to catch a berth with Lou Hiatt's CNR team. So the 17-year-old youngster joined EAC where Manager Budd Williamson immediately assigned him to the first string catching position.

Pearson has since vindicated Williamson's faith in him by becoming the steadiest snubber in the junior league and one of its leading hitters.

With the score tied in the top of the ninth last night Pearson lined a two and two pitch into deep centre field to give EAC a close 10-9 verdict. And everything that had happened prior to that potent wallop paled into insignificance.

It was a see-saw battle, with Leafs leading 5-0 after three innings. By the time the sixth was over EAC had bounced ahead 9-7, only to have their rivals deadlock the count with two runs in the seventh.

EZZARD EARLY 5-7 FAVORITE

Youth vs Experience In Walcott-Charles Go

CHICAGO, June 27—(AP)—The age-old story of youth vs experience sums up Wednesday night's Comiskey Park scrap between Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati and Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N.J., for the National Boxing association version of the world heavyweight championship.

Can 37-year-old Charles, giving away some 15 pounds, catch the wily will o' the wisp who made Joe Louis miss for 25 rounds?

After a year's layoff, will the legs of 35-year-old Jersey Joe be able to stand another long pursuit race?

These are just a few of the questions puzzling the odds-makers who made Charles an early 5-to-7 favorite. There are indications it might come down to 6 to 5 and pick 'em by ring time.

During Walcott's long training grind that ended Sunday there was no indication that he suffered from the year "vacation."

Trainer Dan Florio, who handled Jersey Joe in both Louis fights and many others, thinks he is as sharp as the night in December of 1947 when he almost dethroned the Brown Bomber. Florio and Walcott both figure the two postponements of last June's fight in which he was knocked out by Louis in the 11th round, hurt his chances.

Charles, who finished boxing yesterday, professes to be unworried about the extra poundage.

"I fought his brother before," he said. "Joe Baksi weighed around 210½ and Joe Haynes 214 and I knocked out both of them."

The fight seems to be catching on with the public. Comiskey Park, home of Chicago White Sox, is scaled for $600,000 with $3,218 seats. Nobody expects a sellout but it may do $500,000 with $200,000 reported now in the till.

5th Inning Splurge Gives RCAF 3-2 Win

Breaking out with three runs in the fifth inning RCAF edged Norwood 3-2 in a Senior Men's Fastball league game at Kingsway park last night to move into a fourth-place tie with Anavets in the standings.

Chuck Whiting started out as the Air Force moundsman but after wildness had contributed to single runs in the first and second innings he was yanked in favor of Fred Kuzyk who went the rest of the way. Kuzyk's only serious trouble came in the fifth frame when he loaded the bases with two out.

Norwood hurler Andy Borlitsky was going smoothly until the fatal fifth when, after one was out, the next three hitters reached base, eventually scoring. Joe Dent's single to right field drove across the tying and winning tallies.

South Side Athletics took a 2-1 lead in the top half of the second inning of a ladies' league contest but kicked the ball away four times in the bottom half of the inning to give Mortons three runs and the ball game 7-2. All told Athletics made eight errors, which, combined with eight Morton hits, made the winner's task simple.

A Message from St. Louis

Tuesday tidbits and berewith a message from the Sporting News that has a special meaning for Jim Gibson, manager of Calgary Buffaloes of the Big Four circuit: "Under no conditions does a batter become base runner on any balk. Only base runners advance" . . . It will be remembered that as Esks edged Buffs by 7-6 at Renfrew Park Saturday night Jim Gibson 'talked' umpire Jim Kelly into putting Esks' Clarence McBrye and Bill Georgette on the runways as Buffs' catcher Carl Mori deliberately balked on the first pitch to each . . . In his own mind Gibson was quite certain this was the 'new look' when it came to filling the bases in a hurry . . . With the score tied 6-6 Esk shortstopper Len Karlson had opened the bottom of the ninth with a triple and Gibson elected to load the bases as a strategical move intended, if possible, to eventuallly retire the side without Karlson scoring . . . P.S. It didn't work, Dave Brockie's base-hit breaking up the game before an Esk was out . . . Cy Thomas, former Flyer (WCHL rookie-of-the-year, 1946-47) and currently attending University of Alberta, is spending the scholastic off-season in Cadomin, the old home town, in his case.

There's talk the burly Thomas will hook on with Saskatoon Quakers next season, although this doesn't exactly add up as Thomas is studying medicine and U. of A. can't be topped in this respect.

Pollard 'Talks for' His Pals

More where-are-they-now stuff: Johnny (Red) Pollard, south side product who hit the turf heights as rider of famed Seabiscuit, hangs his tack at Narragansett (in New England) these times, rarely takes a mount . . . On the other hand he sits in for the jocks on disputes with the track management and other matters that pertain to the general welfare of the riding colony . . . Tom Kelly, who first-backed it for Esks in the season 1946, last week was signed by Beaumont of the Texas leagu . . . Kelly was a raw (baseballically speaking), 18-year-old collegian when here, but showed distinct possibilities . . . Now he's to get a chance to realize on those possibilities . . . Has Jimmy Arnott any chance of getting the presidency of the United States Hockey league, 'Curious' asks? . . . Well, can't prove it one way or the other by us. All we know is what Arnott said 'hisself' while here with the horses earlier in the month . . . "I have about as much chance as you have," he guaranteed . . . In which case we don't like his chances of taking over from Jim Hendy.

Andy Marefos, former outstanding centre with Los Angeles Dons, is weighing an offer from the grid Eskimos . . . At one time Marefos was the only player in the National Pro circuit who sported a handlebar moustache. Local barbers please note!

Remember Einar Gunderson?

Speaking of the annual city tennis tournament being played this week whatever became of Einar Gunderson, former champion at the Glenora club? . . . Add favorites-that-are-favorites dept.: In a recent race Coaltown went to the gate at odds of eight to 1,000, meaning that a $100 bet on the black streak to win actually should have returned a profit of 80 cents . . . However state law required a minimum payoff of $2.20 for a deuce, which is what Coaltown's thousands of supporters received when he popped down on the front end—as usual—See here FMG: Research discloses that you had the right dope on 'Iron Man' McGinnity. He was an ace with John McGraw's New York Giants, not Connie Mack's Philadelphia A's, as we erroneously suggested . . . Errin Bishop, sports editor of the Trail Times, a week-end visitor to the city, took in two or three games at Renfrew park . . . Bishop, who has done considerable catching, both in baseball and fastball, knows the score on the diamond . . . He reports that the new rink in Trail is being put together "in a hurry" and predicts it will be ready for play next hockey season.

Is it true that Jack McGill can pull on his Eskimo baseball uniform again only if he agrees to a contract including a bonus arrangement for hitting .280? In 1948 the McGill swat mark was 34 points off this pace.

TRAFFIC COP Terry Moore, one of baseball's more famous names as St. Louis Cardinals' centre fielder and captain, coaches at third base for the National leaguers. His legs no longer are capable of carrying him around the bases or after fly balls.

Baxter Turns Up New Leaf

The wrestling exhibitions at the Stock Pavilion were comparatively quiet last night as Laverne Baxter, the Toothless One from Boston, behaved like a good boy.

On most nights Baxter is the chief attraction because fans like to boo his supposedly ungentlemanly conduct. But last evening old Toothless acted like a cherub and grappled Pat McGill to a 60-minute draw.

In the second half of the double main event Al Mills sat to Don Sugai on a technicality. Albert, the old meany, refused to stay inside his Japanese wrestling jacket, a garment which both men were supposed to wear for the match. Instead Mills attempted to strangle his Japanese adversary and was subsequently disqualified.

Jerry Meeker, the bald actor from Great Falls, Montana, pinned Lou Sjoberg to cop the duke in a special event. And in the preliminary Tiny Mills was awarded the verdict over Butch Higgins when the latter refrained from obeying the rules.

Horsemen Want Higher Purses

VANCOUVER, June 21—(CP)—Vancouver horsemen want higher purses.

It was reported yesterday that a demand for a $900 purse minimum has been placed before S. W. Randall, operator of the Exhibition park meet opening June 29.

He has made a compromise offer of an $850 minimum and is awaiting an answer from the horsemen's association.

"With the $850 minimum from us and the one per cent of the mutuel handle awarded by the provincial government, the horsemen will get $1,000 or more for a minimum purse," said Randall.

There are more traditional ceremonies kept alive in London than in any other city in the world.

Next CAHA Meet Comes to Alberta

CALGARY, June 21—(CP)—Annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey association next year will be held in Alberta, Harold Brandreth, president of the Alberta Amateur Hockey association, disclosed last night.

Brandreth said the meeting would be held either in Edmonton or Calgary. Exact venue of the gathering will be decided at the annual AAHA meeting in Edmonton next Saturday.

He said decision to hold the meeting in Alberta was made at the CAHA meeting in New York recently.

Surging Cardinals Closing In on Dodgers in NL Race

NEW YORK, June 21—(CP)—The high-flying St. Louis Cardinals soared to within a half-game of the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league yesterday, as the Cards scored an easy 7-2 victory over the pinched-up New York Giants.

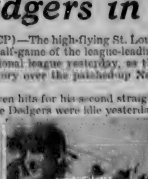
Gerry Staley scattered seven hits for his second straight win over the New Yorkers. The Dodgers were idle yesterday.

In other National league games Boston edged Chicago 3-2 and Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh 5-4.

At Pittsburgh Russ Meyer also scattered seven hits among the Pirates, and their only run was on Ralph Kiner's 15th homer of the season. Meyer himself smashed a pair of singles good for two runs as the loss was charged to Bill Werle.

STANKY SCORES WINNER

At Chicago the Braves won in the ninth, when Eddie Stanky doubled and Ebbie Fletcher drove him home with a single. The Cubs made a gallant bid in their half of the ninth, but a game-ending double play finished them. Frankie Gustino went from third to the plate on Hank Edwards' fly, but catcher Bill Salkeld relayed the ball to third, and umpire Art Gore called Gustine out for leaving the bag too soon. Manager Frankie Frisch used most of his extensive vocabulary, but it didn't make any difference.



RALPH KINER
. . . Socks 15th homer.

In the American league, New York Yankees' first baseman Jack Phillips belted his first homer of the season with two on in the sixth inning, sparking the Yanks to a 4-1 victory over the last place St. Louis Browns. Fred Sanford, purchased from the Browns for $100,000, went the distance and limited his former mates to seven hits. A crowd of 28,443 saw the Yanks score their fifth straight night victory at Yankee Stadium.

FOWLER TOSSES 4-HITTER

Detroit Tigers, now second by four games, were beaten 6-1 at Boston. Victory was credited to Walt Masterson, who left the game after pitching 6⅔ innings because of a sore elbow. Lefthander Ted Gray, Tigers' starting pitcher, was charged with the loss.

Right-hander Dick Fowler of Toronto scored his fifth straight victory with a four-hit job as the Philadelphia Athletics defeated Cleveland Indians 4-1.

At Washington, the Senators lost 5-4 to Chicago White Sox, who snapped a five-game losing streak. Bob Kuzava gave up seven hits to win for the Sox. Shortstop Luke Appling of Chicago was thumbed for the game for the third time in his lengthy career when he protested a called third strike in the seventh inning.

Burma became an independent nation completely outside the British Commonwealth by a treaty signed in London Oct. 17, 1947.

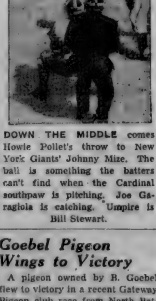
$1574.85 Double at 'Peg Track

WINNIPEG, June 21 — (CP) — They posted $1574.85 on the board yesterday at Polo Park and seven lucky people went away from the track that much happier. That was the payoff figure for the Daily Double and it was the highest for many a moon.

The high double came as a result of Cute Helen, an eight-year-old chestnut mare owned by Vern Greene of Winnipeg, winning the first race of the card. Cute Helen won easily at six furlongs and returned $89.40, $24.80 and $6.70 across the board. Winner of the first coupled with War Vesp in the second for the four figures. War Vesp returned $13.20 for a $2 straight bet.

Feature race of the day at 4½ furlongs went to Silent Flame, owned by S. S. Ross of Calgary. Silent Flame, ridden by A. Phillip, scored easily over Red Invader. Family Shares finished third. The favorite, Fate Party, ran well back.

The quinella also paid off in some nice figures as Carlante, an eight-year-old bay gelding from the Hornbough stables of Calgary, took the decision in the final race from Roberta E. owned by J. R. Edwards of Edmonton. The two combined for a quinella of $109.95.



DOWN THE MIDDLE comes Howie Pollet's throw to New York Giants' Johnny Mize. The ball is something the batters can't find when the Cardinal southpaw is pitching. Joe Garagiola is catching. Umpire is Bill Stewart.

Oxford-Cambridge Team Tops Yanks

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 21—(AP)—With speedy Oxonian Nicholas Stacey cleaning in the two dashes, the combined Oxford-Cambridge track team yesterday defeated the Harvard-Yale forces, eight places to five, in their 15th international meet.

Three meet records were broken as the Britons took an 8-5 lead in this rivalry that began 50 years ago at the Queen's club in London.

The fleet Stacey captured the 100-yard dash in 09 seconds, won the 220 in 21.3 seconds, and ran the anchor leg for the 440-yard relay team that registered a 42.5 second triumph in the 13th and final event. 995.17.

Eskimo Moguls Confident Will Land Ex-Chicago Ace

Edmonton Eskimo football officials are confident of signing Chuck Fesenbeck before the month is out. The former Chicago Rockets quarterback has surveyed the local scene for a few months now and according to executive Bob Bradburn he has indicated a desire to line up with the Esks in Western Conference play this fall.

Coach Annis Stukus is also on the prowl for a competent centre to bolster the middle of the line. Among the American prospects for the position are Roger Harding, member of Washington Redskins and Detroit Lions of last year, and Andy Marefos, former All-American at St. Mary's and all-pro guard with New York Giants.

Both men are 240 pound individuals with a record in pro ball which apparently defies criticism. Marefos did not play in 1948 and he is more likely to show here than is Harding. But last night an Edmonton spokesman said chances of landing either one were "very good."

American imports already signed with the Esks are Earl Elsey and Pat West, both backfielders. It is considered very probable that Bill Radovich, 205-pound guard who attended spring training, will sign his Edmonton contract next week.

Meanwhile Stukus is mobile on the 'home' front. He has scheduled workouts at Clarke Stadium on Mondays and Fridays at 7:30 p.m. As a warm-up for this Friday's drill the Eskimo fastball team will play Sparling-Davis at Varsity Wednesday evening.

MEET SOME of Ponoka's business women. Left is Mrs. Florence Stretch, who operates a garage; centre, Mrs. Hazel Hughes, florist, and then Miss Fern Lynn, manager of one of the leading clothing stores.

Ponoka Ladies-in-Waiting Still Waiting For Lunch

PONOKA, June 21 — Ponoka has its ladies-in-waiting.

They are waiting to go to chamber of commerce luncheons.

They help pay for the food, but they never eat it.

It's an odd situation created by the fact that Ponoka has more women in business than probably any town of comparable size . . . and by the fact that chamber of commerce bylaws limit membership to men engaged standing interested in community, agriculture, industrial and civic progress."

The women think something should be done about this.

STAKE IN COMMUNITY

As Mrs. Florence Stretch who runs a garage and service station, said, "we are going to gang up on them some day. We have a stake in this community, too."

It is not that the chamber of commerce does not appreciate women in business . . . nor, for that matter, the 53 most of them pay for membership.

"Some of the smartest business brains go into our women," said C. H. McMillan, bank manager and chamber president.

FROM WAR YEARS

Some got into business in war years and stayed because they like the life. Others are following their husband's footsteps.

The assessment roll shows, among others, Mrs. Stretch with a garage; Mrs. Amelia Pentin, children's wear; Mrs. Hazel Hughes, florist; Mrs. Edna Jones, babies' wear; Mrs. Hazel Obermeyer, ladies' wear; Mrs. Andrew Reid, insurance; Mrs. H. Rosas, ladies' wear; Alice Hindenaefer, Mrs. Viola Girling, bakery and Miss Fern Lynn, manager of a clothing store.

They work hard and get hungry when it comes to take in the weekly luncheons.

REPRESENTS WOMEN

On occasion Mrs. Lynn will go and represent the other women.

The chamber has 120 members, said Mr. McMillan, and usually 25 will turn out for luncheon.

"We sit around a small table," he explained with a smile.

Wetaskiwin Trees Grow in Pavement

By Ken Liddell

Provincial News Editor

To these tired old eyes, bleary from trying to find something to look at between back of the spectacles and the horizon on Saskatchewan's flat plains, the sight of trees is something to see.

And when you see them growing out of pavement, you've seen about everything. At least in way of trees.

It struck Muriel Strickland the same way. She works for a Saskatchewan farm paper and went for a drive with us around Edmonton's picturesque agricultural area a while back.

"Look at those trees," she laughed. "I can see a Saskatchewan farmer looking at those farms and saying, 'gracious, what a waste of space'".

But out in the country they tell us they are cutting down the trees. Pity. They say they've never had the big winds they now have until people began cutting down trees. Could be. And if you've ever lived in Saskatchewan you know what big winds can do.

SILLY SITUATION

Seems silly for some people to travel the country preaching about and represent shelter belts and planting of trees, while others cut down what nature provided.

If trees can do what we've seen some trees do, then stopping the wind, helping conserve moisture—after allowing some for themselves, even the hired man expects to get paid—would be all in a day's work.

In the gold country of Red Lake in northern Ontario you can see tree roots that have split rocks. Toward Churchill on Hudson Bay frost heaves the ground so continually the telegraph poles kept popping up, so they built them like tripods. But you see trees. No bigger than a man and they lean toward the sun. But they are trees.

Hardy things, trees.

And outside the Alberta Dairy Pool plant at Wetaskiwin, they grow from the cement.

Six poplar trees were there before the creamery and when they built the plant, W. A. MacAllister, manager, hated to see them go.

So they built a boulevard around them.

"Everybody said they would die, but they didn't", said Mr. MacAllister. "Had to cut the tops off the other day. Fluff was blowing into the creamery".

Children Return

CALGARY, June 21.—A group of 25 Alberta children, six to 18 years of age, arrived in Calgary on their way to their homes after attending the Mackay school for the deaf in Montreal.

Tibetan trade with India is carried on mostly through lofty passes, some of which are 14,000 to 18,000 feet high.

Ice Covered Fisherman, Now It Covers His Fish

JASPER PARK LODGE, June 21 —It snowed, hailed and sleeted at Maligne lake but this off-season tempermental tizzy of the weather didn't make C. Bolles, of Platteburg, NY, the least bit unhappy.

The first fishing guest of the 1949 season to go into Fred Brewster's camp at Maligne, Mr. Bolles came out with what he described as the most completely satisfying catch of fish he had ever experienced.

Sixteen beautiful eastern brook trout, weighing from two to three and a half pounds each, were in his creel to testify both to his skill and cooperation of the fish.

"It was beautiful," said the happy angler. "I fished from a boat and out in the open lake I was sheltered in ice. But those fish were biting and I didn't mind anything."

Edmonton is to have nine new electric traffic signals. And do we ever need those lights.

According to Edmonton's "elder statesman" Henry Joseph Roche we also need something else. We need pedestrian training says Henry.

I was on the way over to city hall the other morning when Henry waved me down like an old-fashioned traffic cop.

"Do you know we have the most stupid pedestrians in the world!" asked Mr. Roche.

"Why don't you," continued Henry, "suggest to the City Fathers, the City Engineer, the City Solicitor and everybody that counts around the city to have lines painted dividing pedestrians walks at street intersections with a "keep to the right sign at each curve?"

If something like this isn't done some people are liable to be trampled to death, thinks Mr. Roche.

THE BIG SCRIMMAGE

Because Edmonton pedestrians don't keep to the right when the signal changes it's something like a rugby scrimmage when the boys and girls start their dash from curb to curb.

As a result half the people that start across with the signal get caught right out in the traffic lanes when the next change comes, Mr. Roche points out.

I think Henry's got something. After our little chat I watched during the noon hour rush from the friendly safety of the side-walk. Eevrything Henry told me about happened at the signal change.

Pedestrians started out from both curbs in mass formation something like those mass attacks the German army used to make on the Western Front in the First Great War.

Poor old ladies were getting knocked for a loop by husky youngsters. Tots were being stepped on and tossed around like toy boats on a choppy lake.

AN EASY CURE

Most of this heavy body-checking could have been avoided if south-bound pedestrians moved on the west half of the cross-walk and north-bound citizens crossed on the eastern portion.

Then I remembered what it is like in downtown Los Angeles at rush hours. The crowds move with machine-like precision at signal changes and there always seems to be lots of time for everybody to get across.

And even Jasper and 101 street is pretty dull in comparison to Broadway and Seventh street in L.A.

I have often heard people from this American city say that Edmonton has the worst automobile drivers in the world. Now it seems that even our pedestrians need a course in the simple but highly important art of crossing the street.

SCHOOL'S OUT and Don Gladue, left, and Conley Fredland know it, although they will never hear dismissal bells ring. With other handicapped Alberta children receiving normal education at Mackay School for the Deaf at Montreal, two little boys reached Edmonton yesterday. Don bound for home at Faust, and Conley on his way to Sexsmith, books and studies behind them for summer vacation. Goodbyes to other students stopping at Edmonton were said with hand signs.

QUICK ACCOUNT of life at a Washington College is "heard" by George Pody (left) of Colinton, as another home-town boy, Bruce Jack, describes his past year at a university for the deaf in the States. Younger youth, returning home after studying at Mackay School for the Deaf at Montreal was met at Edmonton station by his friend yesterday.

4 New Motel Areas Designated by City

Tourist Accommodation Is Object of Council

Expanding Edmonton is to have a new zone classification, the "T" zone, set aside for motels and auto camps that will serve tourists in summer and house residents in winter.

This was the decision of city council last night when four areas were set aside for the "T" zoning.

Areas are triangle between Kingsway, Portage and 116 street; triangle between Kingsway, Portage and 106 street; north end of 105 street bridge, west of 105 street to the CNR tracks, south of 95 avenue, and flat ledge at south end of High Level bridge half way up river bank between 107 and 109 streets.

The flat ledge zone near the High Level bridge will be disposed of on a long-terms lease basis (20 years), with renewal clauses, and will be subject to repossession by the city if needed for park lands.

HANNA OPPOSED

Ald. Hanna opposed the move stating he considered the city needed all the park land it could get.

Types of buildings to be constructed will be made to conform with city and provincial regulations.

Mayor Harry D. Ainlay said there need be little concern over the ledge land being wanted for parks as no trees will grow on it.

A $250,000 motel and tourist centre project has been proposed for the South Side area.

Ald. Bisset strongly supported the rezoning, pointing out that the city has spent money on advertising for tourists and must have places for them to stay when they visit here.

TWO OTHERS

Council also approved rezoning of two blocks of land to light industry, one on the South Side near the southern city limits, bordering the Calgary highway and the second north of Kingsway between 107 and 108 streets.

Town Planning Commission recommended the rezoning so that George E. Failing Oil Supply Co. could erect a $50,000 showroom at the Kingsway side, while Perfecting Guns of Canada Ltd., will build an oil supply warehouse on the south side site.

The Failing Company will manufacture oil drill equipment at a plant in the west end.

Because both firms plan an immediate start, permission has been obtained from the provincial government to start the projects without the usual advertising to residents about rezoning. There has been no opposition.

Set over until next meeting, because the zoning bylaw hit aldermanic opposition, was the request to rezone property in the Rat Creek district near 78 street for a home for the aged. Eastern Star Lodge is sponsoring the project.

Ald. Fred W. Mitchell was opposed to taking the property out of park land.

Labor Body Supports CSU Suspension

Suspension of the Canadian Seamen's Union by an executive committee of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was endorsed almost unanimously at a meeting of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council last night.

Endorsation was given on a motion by Malcolm Ainslie following a lengthy report on developments in the seamen's strike by Carl Berg, vice-president of the TLC and one of the members of the committee of three which recommended the suspension.

No votes were cast against the motion to endorse the action, however, several delegates at the meeting refrained from voting.

In his report, Mr. Berg said he and the other members of the committee, Percy H. Bengough and William Jenoves, were advised to expel the CSU when it became apparent that continuation of the strike could only result in placing the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress and its affiliated unions in further embarassing and untenable positions unquestionably not in the best interests of the trade union movement.

AGAINST LEADERS

The committee, he said was particularly favorable to the expulsion of the CSU so long as it maintained its present leadership. This leadership was described as Communistic.

Summarizing developments which lead to the expulsion Mr. Berg said, the TLC was prepared and did support the CSU in the conduct a strike on the Great Lakes.

However the CSU went further and decided to call a strike on ships operating off the Atlantic coast.

Since then, Mr. Berg said, the situation has steadily deteriorated, and has been broadened to the extent that it has interfered with the welfare of workers in other affiliated unions.

Internal dissention within the TLC developed to the extent that 14 affiliated international unions had taken the stand that they would not remain affiliated so long as the CSU remains affiliated.

Tourist Man Scorns Setup

Criticism of Alberta's tourist accommodation was levelled by Dan E. C. Campbell, director of the provincial government travel bureau at the Kiwanis meeting yesterday.

Mr. Campbell advocated planned resorts within commuting distance of cities, with water, sewage and light, winterized cabins and complete recreational facilities.

Alberta's lake resorts he said have grown up without any plan whatever and as a result are far below the standard required.

He said that Canada's tourist industry is facing increased competition from Europe resorts and must plan now for the future, when more and more American tourists will visit Europe on reduced holiday rates.

Shirley Green, winner of the Kiwanis Club scholarship at the recent Edmonton music festival entertained with piano selections.

Glenn Taylor presided.

City Customs Officer Comes Up With Solution

By John McLean
Bulletin Staff Reporter

A customs official here today dug down into his bag of regulations and came up with what may be the answer to a question posed yesterday by two irate American tourists.

The U.S. travellers, George G. Daunt and Herman J. Peters, both of California, steamed into Calgary all hot up about two customs officials who told them at the border they must pay a deposit of $347.85 before they could have a permit to travel on the Alaska highway.

But P. E. Dennison, collector of customs here, says the Americans have it all wrong.

"I'm not familiar with this particular case," Mr. Dennison said, "but I think I know where the trouble lies."

It seems that last month sometime the government laid down a regulation whereby Americans going through Canada to Alaska must:

1.—Secure a traveller's permit for the purpose of using Canada as a stepping stone to the land of the midnight sun.

2.—Pay a deposit on all "old" automobiles which might conceivably break down on the long haul.

JUST INSURANCE

The deposit, Mr. Dennison explained, is to assure export of the American automobile should it fail to get back across the border under its own power.

Apparently a lot of old hacks have fallen apart at the seams during the long trek to Alaska. "We are just making sure they'll get back to the States," said Mr. Dennison.

The Americans claim they were never told why they would have to pay the money.

They were quoted as saying: "If there is good reason for paying the money, of course we will pay it to get to Alaska . . . but until we know what it is for we certainly are not paying for it."

Amount of deposit required is approximately 38 per cent of appraised value of the car.

And if the two Americans are listening they can take Mr. Dennison's word for it that they'll get their money back on re-crossing the American border.

Theatre Gets Water, Sewer

Tivoli theatre, just outside the city limits in West Jasper Place, will get city water and sewer service.

City Council last night approved the application of the theatre owner for service after considerable discussion by a majority vote.

Aldermen Sidney Parsons and Richard Hanna were opposed, both contending council is setting a precedent of extending services that will lead to trouble.

Tivoli theatre, that is to open July 16, is situated only a few feet from a city manhole on 149 street. There is really no extension, Mayor Ainlay said. It is merely a question of hooking on to the mains, which the theatre company has agreed to pay for.

The city reserves the right to cancel services on notice of six months.

Labor Office Moves To New Location

Today was moving day for Alberta's department of industries and labor.

Two-storey building in 109 street and 99 avenue, purchased recently by the government, will be new home of the department.

General office staff of the department moved in Monday, and other branches, now accomodated at the Administration building across 99 avenue from the new offices, will move today and Wednesday.

W. J. Bedard Buried Here

Funeral services were conducted this morning for William J. H. Bedard, 83, of 10745 80 avenue, who died suddenly at his home Sunday.

Rev. C. J. Foran officiated at the service and burial was in the Edmonton Roman Catholic cemetery. Prayers were said yesterday at Hainstock chapel.

Mr. Bedard was one of the early gold prospectors in the Edmonton area, and with his father, panned Saskatchewan river gold as early as 1866.

He was born in St. Flavian, Quebec, and lived with his parents at St. Paul, before the family moved to Edmonton in 1900 to establish the Edmonton Tanneries.

Mr. Bedard operated the business for many years until prior to the First Great War when he established a billiard parlor here. He retired 15 years ago.

He was a veteran member of the South Edmonton Rifle Association.

Surviving are his widow; one son, William, Edmonton; five daughters, Mrs. L. H. Peverille, Mrs. A. H. Green, Mrs. A. V. Leesburg of Edmonton, Mrs. H. Aikins, Montreal, Mrs. R. E. Souch, Sudbury, Ont.; three brothers, one sister, 14 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Church Group Plans Mission Work Here

Presbyterial President Speaks On Interesting Young Marrieds

Plan to interest young mothers in church work was discussed at a recent meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Strathcona Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. John Kelman, Presbyterial president, was guest speaker.

Mrs. Kelman urged members to put forth greater effort in calling on lonely young women with families, particularly those who have come from other parts of the country.

She said that many of these girls are from fine Christian homes and are anxious to give their families the same training and opportunity of religious education they have received themselves.

"Our church needs these young people as well as the well-established church members." Mrs. Kelman said. She added that missionary work along this line must be carried on as well as work in other lands and that this is not a man's job but a woman's work.

Mrs. Kelman herself has come from the east to make her home in the city. She plans to visit and speak to many groups of women in the north during the summer. She will be accompanied by Miss Athalie Reed, regional secretary, and Miss Lily McArthur, children's secretary.

All secretaries at the meeting gave half-year reports. Members have finished quilts for Camp Kannawin at Sylvan Lake and the Indian School in Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Ozeroff presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. Dunn.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Woodhead, social convener, assisted by Mrs. J. Price and Miss Jean Lobb.

Edwards - Stanton Vows Pledged Here

Pink and white peonies, mingled with fern, formed a colorful background in St. Alphonsus Church recently, when Margaret Delnor Stanton became the bride of Peter Edwards.

Rev. Fr. J. Cunningham performed the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Edwards, all of Edmonton.

The fitted bodice featured a square neckline and lily point sleeves, and was fastened down the back with tiny self-covered buttons. The full skirt fell into a slight train, and was misted with a peplum of French lace.

WHITE PRAYER BOOK

A coronet of pearls caught the bride's finger-tip veil of French illusion tulle, and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls belonging to her mother. She carried a white prayer book, a gift of the bridegroom, ornamented with a dainty spray of orchids, stephanotis, sweetheart roses and streamers.

Blue corded taffeta gowns were worn by Miss Lorraine Quigley, maid of honor, and Miss Louise Edwards, sister of the bridegroom, who was bridesmaid.

Echo-Sounding A Quick Way To Find Depth of the Sea

Dear Tawasis:

Have you ever shouted and heard your voice echo back? If you have said "hello" you will have heard an answering "hello." It's fun but sometimes a little annoying.

If you made an abrupt sound, preferably on a high note, at a distance from a large flat surface facing you, such as a cliff, you will notice the sound repeated after a short interval. Usually this happens only after a fraction of a second. What has happened is the sound travelled from its origin to the hard surface and back again at the rate of 1,100 feet a second so the echo will be heard in exactly one second if the reflecting object is 550 feet away.

CLEAR COURSE HELPS

As you would expect, the echo is most distinct when all is quiet. It is also most distinct when there is a clear course between you and the reflector with no people or objects interposed to break up the sound and reduce its full force.

In a large hall a sound may echo backwards and forwards between opposite walls many times before it finally dies away. It is very important in order that speeches and music may be clearly audible and enjoyable for the architect to design the shape of the hall and select materials for walls so the reverberation-time may not be too long. But it mustn't be too short because when that happens the effect upon the ear is a dull, muffled sound which is unpleasant.

It's fun for boys and girls to listen to echos but echo-sounding, as it is called, is the quickest and most accurate way of finding the depth of the sea. Today every large ship that sails on the sea is equipped with apparatus by which the time elapsing between the striking of a steel plate in the hull and the return of the echo from the sea-bed can be accurately measured. This can be done even when the vessel is going at full speed. This overcomes the danger of running aground during a fog.

UNCANNY ECHO

There is even on organ called an echo organ. It is a small organ of delicate tone either placed at a distance from the main organ or inclosed in a box in order to produce distant effect. Though the idea of such an organ is very old the introduction of electric mechanism has extended its possibilities. Examples of echo organs are the celestial organ at Westminster Abbey and the altar organ of St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

Sincerely,

Joan Walker

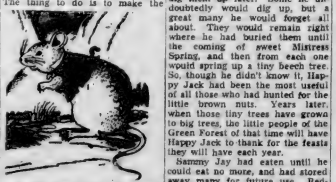
BEDTIME STORY

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Good times too soon are of the past;
A pity 'tis they do not last.

And yet is it a pity? If they lasted always we wouldn't half appreciate them. And, after all, a good time is never wholly of the past because always you have the memory of it, and that is something no one can take away from you. The thing to do is to make the most of a good time while you can. If one good time lasted always there would be no other good times to look forward to.



So the place where the beech trees grow was deserted by all save Whitefoot.

FEAST ENDS

Of course, the beechnut feast in the Green Forest had to come to an end. With so many sharp-eyed people looking for those sweet, brown, little beechnuts it wasn't a great while before most of them had been found. But while they lasted, the happiest place in all the Green Forest was right under the silver gray beech tree, especially after the first day, when Chatterer the Red Squirrel had made so much unpleasantness. After the first day, Chatterer attended strictly to business. He was smart enough to know that if he would get his share he could waste no more time quarreling.

At last the little brown nuts were so scarce that they were hardly worth looking for. Buster Bear and Lightfoot the Deer no longer came. They had made the most of their opportunity, and both were much fatter as a result. So were all the numbers of the Gobbler family and of the Grouse family. Now they had scattered in quest of other good things. Chatterer the Red Squirrel had filled several storehouses and really had more beechnuts than he could possibly use.

STORED NUTS

His cousin Happy Jack, the Grey Squirrel, had stored away plenty against the day of need, and he had buried many more, thinking to dig them up later. Some he undoubtedly would dig up, but a great many he would forget all about. They would remain right where he had buried them until the coming of sweet Mistress Spring, and then from each one would spring up a tiny beech tree. So, though he didn't know it, Happy Jack had been the most useful of all those who had hunted for the little brown nuts. Years later, when those tiny trees have grown to big trees, the little people of the Green Forest of that time will have Happy Jack to thank for the feasts they will have each year.

Sammy Jay had eaten until he could eat no more, and had stored away many for future use. Redhead the Woodpecker felt very fine and quite fit to move south when the weather should become too cold for comfort. So the place where the beech trees grow was quite deserted by all save Whitefoot the Wood Mouse. You see, his home is close by and he still hunted for nuts which the others had overlooked, although his storehouse was so full that he had started to fill another. Whitefoot is thrifty. Best of all, nothing had happened to any of the feasters. Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy, Old Man Coyote, and Hooty the Owl had tried in vain to catch one of them.

And so when the good times ended there were no unhappy memories. You see, Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy and Old Man Coyote found plenty to eat elsewhere. They didn't go hungry. Oh my no! They were simply disappointed, but their disappointment meant that nothing dreadful happened to the other little people. So the beechnut feast was a great success, and because of it many little people of the Green Forest were better prepared for the coming of Jack Frost and rough Brother North Wind.

AIC Hears Plant Weapons Story

Experiments Never Stop In Warfare on Insects

VANCOUVER, June 21.—(CP)—Experimental agriculture never stops in its development of new plant "weapons" to defend Canadian farmers from attacks of crop destroying insects, William Dixon of Ottawa said here yesterday.

Mr. Dixon, research assistant at Ottawa Experimental Farm, told the Agriculture Institute of Canada convention of one of the most successful developments in the long-term battle. It's a prairie wheat, appropriately called "Rescue."

He said the strain aids farmers in their fight against the deadly sawfly.

FIRST STEP

"The new wheat has solid stem characteristics which does not give the sawfly room to breed within the stem," he said.

"This is the first step in preventing destruction of prairie wheat by the sawfly but we are still hoping to produce even better varieties."

Lack of irrigation water, another problem for prairie farmers, is being overcome by Dominion agriculturists, Mr. Dixon said.

The St. Mary's river project southwest of Lethbridge, Alberta, is expected to provide irrigation for about 300,000 acres of sun-scorched lands.

INDIANS HELPED

The convention delegates also heard from Mr. Dixon about a long-term experiment in pre-settlement agricultural development which is proving a boon to B.C.'s vitamin-starved northern Indians.

The new development is being conducted at a dominion experimental station near Whitehorse in the Yukon. Mr. Dixon said research from this station and others in the country is aiding the thinly-scattered Indians whose haphazard diet is depriving them of essential nutrients.

PIONEER STEP

Dominion agriculturists, with the development of hardy northern vegetables and the use of hothouses, now are able to provide the Indians with small amounts of beans, peas, carrots, potatoes and tomatoes.

At the same time, Mr. Dixon said, this is the first attempt in Canada "to determine the agricultural potential of a community years ahead of settlement . . . we have great hopes for its success."

Mr. Moore had been organist and choir director of Metropolitan church here and supervisor of music for Regina public schools.

Convicted Murderer Gets Life Sentence

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 21.—(UP)—Milton Babich, 19, began serving a life term in Wisconsin state prison today for murdering pretty Patricia Birmingham and the mother of the victim said he "got what was coming to him."

With time off for good behavior, Babich, a former high school honor student, will be eligible for parole in 11 years, when he is 30 years old.

BABY EXPECTED

The olive-skinned youth was found guilty of murder in the first degree for slaying 16-year-old Patricia to keep her from "tattling" that her elder sister, Kathleen, now Babich's wife was carrying his child conceived out of wedlock. The baby is expected next month.

Babich was hustled off to state prison at Waupun early today, less than three hours after a jury of 10 men and two women found him guilty.

He stood rigid and grim last night as Judge Herbert J. Steffes handed him the mandatory sentence required by the conviction—life imprisonment. He turned pale when the conviction was announced but won back his composure quickly.

HARD LABOR

The judge added the words "at hard labor" to make his sentence stiffer.

Wisconsin has no death penalty.

His attorneys said they would ask for a new trial. Failing in that, they will appeal.

Juvenile Vandals Cost City Heavily

BOSTON, June 21.—(UP)—Juvenile vandals cost the city more than $100,000 yearly, according to Mayor James M. Curley.

As he signed a contract for nearly 10 carloads of street light globes and glass for school windows he explained that most of the damage was caused by school children.

"They should realize the ultimate cost comes back to their mothers and fathers," he said.

Average Farm Wage Higher Than Year Ago

OTTAWA, June 20.—(CP)—Average wages for male farm help at mid-May were generally higher than a year ago, although increases were less than for the previous 12 months and in a few cases the wage rates were lower, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The average farm hand whose board was being provided by his employer was receiving $4.04 a day at mid-May, compared with $3.93 at May 15 last year and $3.39 in 1947. By provinces the rates ranged from a low of $2.90 in Prince Edward Island to a high of $5.06 in British Columbia.

The rates were higher in all provinces except New Brunswick, down from $3.92 to $3.85, and Ontario, unchanged at $4.11.

SASK. IS LOWER

Without board, the average daily rate was $5.06 for all Canada against $4.89 in 1948 and $4.55 in 1947. In this case, rates were up in all provinces except Saskatchewan, where reports indicate a slight decline to $5.15 as compared with $5.17.

The average monthly rate with board for all provinces was $83.73 compared with $83.26 a year earlier and $77.01 in 1947. Rates ranged from $57.50 in Prince Edward Island to $93.57 in British Columbia.

Average rate per month without board was $113.89 as against $113.07 and $103.96 a year and two years earlier, respectively.

Orientated Now

VERNON, B.C.—(CP)—The logger, weekly newspaper published in nearby Lumby, has done "a complete about face in community affairs." Editor Charles Sadd reports the newspaper building has been turned around to face Vernon Road, as originally planned.

Truman's Show Attracts 30,000

TRUMAN, Minn., June 21.—(AP)—Truman's three-day golden jubilee and Minnesota Centennial celebration attracted 30,000 persons during its three-day program. The largest crowd was Saturday, when 18,000 jammed the town, which has a normal population of less than 2,000.

Lesson Learned

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(UP)—Theater-goers at a downtown movie were surprised to see a small boy sitting in the lobby in his underwear, holding his sandsuit in his hands. During the winter months his mother had made him take off his leggings before he took his seat.

Abbey Presentation To Highlight July 1

LONDON, June 21.—(CP)—Highlight of Dominion Day celebrations in Britain this year will be a service at Westminster Abbey at which two chairs and faldstools will be presented to the Abbey by the Canada Club in the presence of the King and Queen.

Intended as as a memorial to Canadians who died in the Second World War, the chairs will be formally presented to the Dean of Westminster, Dr. Allan Don, by C. B. Cowley, honorary secretary of the Canada Club.

The chairs, made of Canadian birch stained and polished to a dark tone, are of Venetian pattern with oval bases in front carved with a Maple Leaf. Each prie-Dieu (kneeling desk) displays the arms of Canada.

PROGRAM SET

The King and Queen will be received at the great west door of the abbey by the dean and chapter and L. D. Wilgress, Canadian high commissioner in the United Kingdom. The procession then moves eastward through the church to the lantern where the King and Queen take their seats facing the high altar.

Singing of the hymn "O God of Bethel" by the choir and congregation will open the service, after which prayers will be offered by Canon C. M. Armitage, procentor of the abbey. Then follows psalm 121 "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills" and reading of the lesson from book one, chapter eight of Kings, verses 54-62.

DR. LOWE TO SPEAK

After the presentation, to which the dean will respond, the King and Queen move to the sanctuary, there to occupy the Canadian chairs and faldstools that will in future be used on all Royal occasions.

Calgary-born Dr. John Lowe, dean of Christ Church, Oxford, is to deliver the address, followed by the singing of "O Canada," a blessing by the dean and "God Save the King."

The bells of the abbey will peal as the King and Queen move out through the great west door for their journey back to Buckingham Palace. The normal Dominion Day reception by the Canadian high commissioner will take place at Canada house during the afternoon, followed by the Canada Club dinner at the Savoy hotel.

PUKKA GEN, CHAPS

Sir Norman Proves Quick With Beer, Whisky Taps

WORCESTER, Eng., June 21.—(CP)—Strangers at Worcester's Star hotel sometimes jump when they hear customers call over the bar:

"Another half-pint please, Sir Norman."

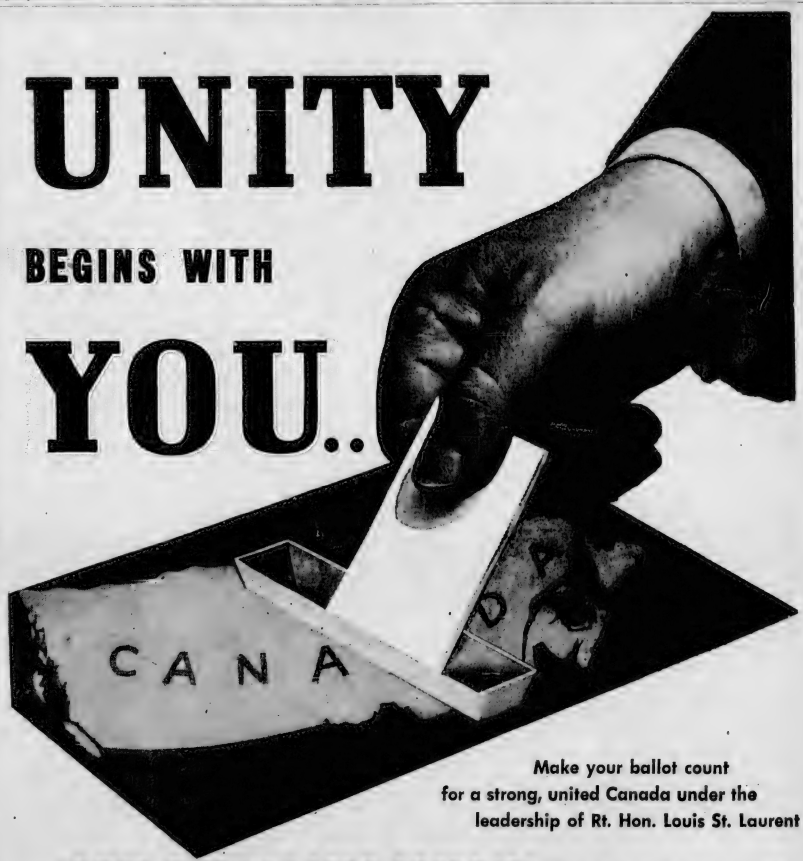
At first they think it's a gag. Then they learn that the breezy RAF "type" with the black moustache is none other than Sir Norman Pringle Bart, whose title goes back to 1683 from the baronetcy of Stichill in Roxburghshire, Scotland.

For some months after joining the barroom staff, Sir Norman kept his title quiet. Then it leaked out through a newspaper report about baronets listed in Burke's peerage.

It made no difference to Sir Norman's preoccupation with the beer pumps and the whisky taps. He is quick, efficient and polite—even to drunks.

"After I was demobbed from the RAF," he said, "I took a temporary post with the ministry of supply. While on this job I met the present manager of this hotel. He offered me a job as barman, and when my time with the ministry ran out, I took it. That's all."

UNITY BEGINS WITH YOU...



Make your ballot count for a strong, united Canada under the leadership of Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent

VOTE FOR GREATER SECURITY for you and your family

INDIVIDUAL SECURITY — Employment, trade, income are all at new high levels. Taxes have been reduced. New factories, new developments of oil, mineral and other natural resources are creating more wealth, more jobs.

SOCIAL SECURITY — The Liberals have put through all these social benefits: Old Age Pensions, Pensions for the Blind, Family Allowances, Hospital and Health Grants, Unemployment Insurance, Floor Prices under farm products. The Liberal aim is nation-wide contributory old age pensions and contributory health insurance.

NATIONAL SECURITY — The Atlantic Pact against aggression and war has the complete support of all Liberals. Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent was one of its first and strongest advocates. Canada stands united and ready, in cooperation with other democratic nations, to do her part in building peace and security.

Pulp and Paper Mill Begins Soon

R. O. Sweezey Predicts Work To Start During Summer

Preliminary steps in construction of Edmonton's pulp and paper mill, first in the prairie provinces, should be underway this summer, R. O. Sweezey, Montreal financier said here today.

Just when actual construction will begin is "the $64 question," he said, but such initial steps as hiring for a foundation, water filtration study and the settling of power problem will be started this summer.

Three sites for the mill are being considered Mr. Sweezey said.

STAFF OF 350

Initial cost is estimated at $12,000,000 with facilities for further expansion as well will be required. He expects initial staff to number around 350.

While here, Mr. Sweezey will meet with technical men and discuss power questions, fuel costs and wood operations. He will also go an inspection trip to forests north and west of here.

"People think I'm crazy to invest in a pulp mill now," he said. "People think there's going to be a depression. I don't share that view at all. We're going through a correction period now comparable to which occurred in 1921."

"Following 1922," Mr. Sweezey said, "things started going up and we entered a period of prosperity such as we had never known before."

Employes of Edmonton Public Library are asking pay increases of $84 a year, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1949.

Request of employes, members of Civic Union No. 52, was discussed at a meeting of the library board yesterday.

Increases would apply to men and women employes, including caretakers, bus drivers and music director. Part-time workers would receive an additional five cents an hour.

No decision was made, pending discussion with city commissioners and civic block employes, also members of the union.

H. E. Balfour, chairman, was authorized to call a midsummer meeting if necessary.

Mountglen HSA Opposes Arsenal Plan For Area

Re-zoning of the Westmount Park Area to permit the establishing of a military arsenal there was unanimously opposed by executive of the Mountglen Home and School Association.

A communication was sent to Mayor Ainlay asking the protest be put before the City Council at the regular meeting, Monday.

Protest came from a special meeting at the home of J. C. Jonason, president.

One Day Lopped From Exam Preparations

Grade nine students will have one less day than they expected to "hone up" for final examinations.

Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education, today issued a reminder to grade nine students that they will start Thursday instead of Friday as originally planned.

Change results from the fact that there will be no exams on Monday, election day, as some schools will be used as polling stations.

Man In Coma, Police Find Children Tied

BUFFALO, N.Y., June 21.—(AP) —Two children, naked and tied to door knob were found last night by police. Their father lay helpless in a diabetic coma.

Investigating a report that the children were screaming, police broke into a second-floor apartment where they found Burritt F. Titus, 36, lying in bed and semi-conscious on a hall floor.

Police said they found the unclothed children, Benjamin, four, and Mary, three, tied to a four-foot clothesline which was attached to leather belts around their bodies.

All three were taken to hospital for treatment. The children's mother has been in hospital since June 15.

Body Named As Rainville's

MONTREAL, June 21.—(CP)—A body taken from Montreal harbor this morning has been positively identified as that of Marcel Rainville, former Canadian Davis Cup tennis star, city morgue officials said today.

A morgue official said a number of persons who knew the Montreal lawyer and athlete had identified the body which was found by a tugboat crew.

The body was discovered near Victoria pier by bystanders Friday night found a pile of clothing and a sheet of paper with the name "Marcel Rainville" scribbled on it.

TOPS IN EARLY 30's

Rainville, in his early 40's, had been living in various Montreal hotels recently and police were unable to reach his wife.

Rainville, so small he was known as "peewee," ranked at the top of Canada's tennis players between 1932 and 1936. Perhaps his greatest effort for Canadian tennis was in the 1931 Davis Cup matches at Montreal, when he won his match—a long-drawn-out, gruelling affair—with the United States star, Sydney Wood.

Charge Against City Worker Is Dismissed

A charge of abortion against Nick Gordy, 12113 84 street, was dismissed tersely yesterday when the 38-year-old former packing house worker appeared before Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor in Supreme Court.

A second charge, one of seduction, was adjourned until July 5.

Gordy was arrested April 13 following complaints of ill-treatment made by his wife, Mrs. Adams.

Complainant Mary Adams was among witnesses called as the trial opened yesterday morning.

Gordy originally faced a charge of murdering the newly-born child of Miss Adams. Charge was reduced to one of abortion.

Polio Epidemic Of Last Year May Help This

Possibility that Alberta's serious polio epidemic of 1948 may have a beneficial effect this year was seen today by provincial health department officials.

Dr. J. A. Gillett, director of communicable diseases, said today persons who contracted the disease previously would be immune to attacks this year.

Nearly 500 cases were reported in the province last year, many of them mild attacks.

Many other persons are believed to have contracted very mild attacks without being aware that they were polio victims.

Ottawa Man Faces 70 Cheque Charges

TORONTO, June 21.—(CP)—Geo. Stewart Beacum, 44, of Ottawa, was arrested last night on charges of fraud, theft and forgery of Veterans' Affairs Department cheques. Police said Beacum worked for an Ottawa firm which printed government cheques and he is alleged to have stolen 70 of the cheques.

VANCOUVER'S OWN BOND DRIVE URGED

VANCOUVER, June 21.—(CP)—Mayor Charles E. Thompson, back from a conference with eastern financial interests, said today Vancouver should have its own bond drive to sell more civic bonds at home.

"We should put on a bond drive," he declared. "We should educate the investors of Vancouver in having confidence in their own city."

Commenting on charges that financial houses, which joined in submitting only one bid for an $7,500,000 bond issue two months ago, had "cashed up on Vancouver," Mayor Thompson said:

"I don't believe they pooled their forces for the purpose of charging us too much for selling our bonds. I think it was just to be sure that the bond issue went over."

Try to Stop Jump Fails

VANCOUVER, June 21.—(CP)— A radio-equipped taxi's effort failed today to halt the 90-foot plunge of an unidentified woman from Burrard bridge into the waters of False Creek.

"Cabette" Ann Robinson message tersely ended her radio-telephone when she saw the young woman standing on the bridge railing, driver Bill Pudge raced to the scene.

The woman jumped before he arrived but after Miss Robinson had asked: "Can I take you somewhere?" The woman replied, "No, I'm okay."

Police believe the red-coated woman was swept out into English Bay by a strong ebb tide. It was the fourth plunge from the bridge in less than three months. Two of those proved fatal.

China Planes Attack Ship

SHANGHAI, China, June 21. — (BUP) — Nationalist warplanes bombed and strafed a British motor vessel in the Whangpoo river near Shanghai today, driving the ship aground and injuring six of its 68 British and Chinese crew members, one seriously.

The attack came a few hours after the Nationalist government in Canton announced a total blockade of all Communist-held ports from Manchuria to Foochow, but five days before the blockade was to go into effect.

The 8,381-ton Blue Funnel Line motorship Anchises, built in 1946, was heavily damaged in the raid. The ship was holed by a bomb which hit amidships and the entire room was flooded. The vessel, however, was refloated this afternoon, after being beached.

Wives Wage Wild War With Wicked Weapons

Bloody tale of neighborhood warfare was revealed in police court this morning, as two young, dark, flashing-eyed mothers described a pitched battle in the basement of one of their homes.

One woman grabbed other by the hair, broke her glasses, knocked her down on the concrete.

Second came back fast with a chair leg.

Husbands meanwhile climbed out of the ring and watched their ladies square off.

Fight went on for 15 or 20 minutes, one wife told the court.

One husband stated he did not intervene because he "did not think it would amount to much."

HAMMER ENTERS

He finally broke it up when one scrapper reached for a hammer.

Cause of affray was complex. Involved were:

A wrench, property of one couple out held hostage by the other.

Set of tools likewise held by the first couple.

A crib.

Quantity of pantry supplies.

An unpaid bill.

Argument started the accused stated, when the other wife said she was unmarried and threatened to spread the news about the neighborhood (accused indignantly started pulling off left glove to show ring).

The fisticuffs started as follows, the accused stated:

"I'm standing on the basement stairs. She says, 'I'm going to kick you'."

"So I say 'go right ahead.'

"So she did."

Magistrate A. I. Millar found the accused had gone to the other's house in an "aggressive mood," fined her five dollars and costs.

Gnu Gnuptials Gnot Gnecessarily Gnascent

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—(AP)—Gnasty Gned, the gnurotic gnu who gored—then ignored—his gnu lady friend at Griffith Park Zoo last week, has justified his actions.

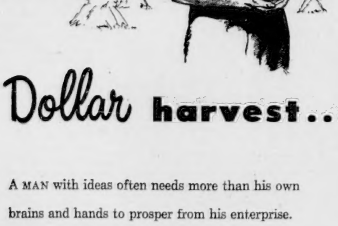
He wasn't mad at the gal—they're pretty good friends now. Gned's gnastiness was in protest against his privacy.

"There were just too many people around," chief keeper Charles Allen said today.

First of all, there were photographers, and flash bulbs, and at least 20 other persons on hand for the gnuptials.

"The gnu was so mad he had to hit somebody," Allen says, "and the new gnu was available."

Although the gnus are "getting along together now," says Allen, they're not exactly gnulyweds and won't be until early next spring.



Dollar harvest...

A MAN with ideas often needs more than his own brains and hands to prosper from his enterprise. Often he needs money . . .

Such a man is the "primary producer"—the farmer, fisherman, pulpwood contractor, miner.

When he needs a bank loan to help him put his ideas to work, he is free to shop around among Canada's ten chartered banks for the best deal he can get.

That's why primary producers—like most people—intend to keep banking competitive.

It means a better deal, freedom from red tape, loans made on merit, not on politics . . . and it means respect for privacy in money matters.

Canada's primary producers have good reason to demand the privacy of their banking.

Both East, West Hail Big 4 Step

Pravda Says Paris Parley Eased World Atmosphere

LONDON, June 21.—(AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers' Paris conference was hailed today from both sides of the iron curtain as a step toward better east-west relations.

Moscow's Communist party organ, Pravda, carried a long review of the talks. The Soviet paper worked in a few jabs at "American business men" and other pet targets, but generally concluded that the conference aided in "easing" the international atmosphere.

AGREEMENTS POSSIBLE

"The real significance of the agreement which has been reached," Pravda said, "is that it demonstrates conclusively how agreements are possible when the practice of dictation is left at the threshold of the council's chamber."

The paper said it is significant that the Paris agreement denotes "an essential step in the direction of re-establishing the activity of the council of foreign ministers."

BEVIN OPTIMISTIC

Foreign Secretary Bevin voiced optimism over results of the talks and said they "open up the possibilities of co-operation once again." He told reporters on his return to London that the foreign ministers managed to "lay the foundation and now we must proceed to build on it."

"I have faith in our neighbors and I hope they have faith in us," he said.

Austrians received with jubilation news of the Big Four decision to conclude an independence treaty for their country. Chancellor Leopold Figl said in Vienna last night that the Paris decision is "a big step toward peace and the freedom of humanity."

MAY SOLVE CHAOS

American officials in Berlin voiced belief the big four decisions on the German questions might help untangle the chaos in the former Reich capital.

W. T. Babcock, United States deputy commandant in Berlin, said the foreign ministers have "opened the door" toward a solution of the city's knottiest problems.

Babcock also said he sees an implied wish of the foreign ministers that the occupation powers do something positive to end the paralyzing West Berlin rail strike now in its fifth week.

GERMANS WARY

West German officials themselves were wary in their reaction to the possibility of all-German conferences between east and west. Deputy Mayor Ferdinand Friedensburg said:

"Theoretic goodwill is to be welcomed. However, the practical result does not reach the minimum of the expected. Anyhow the way toward future negotiation has been kept open."

U.S. To Refit 2 Carriers For Atom Bomb Planes

WASHINGTON, June 21—(UP)—Defense Secretary Louis Johnson disclosed today he has authorized the Navy to refit two more carriers to handle planes believed capable of taking off with atomic bombs.

Johnson departed from the text of a prepared speech at the National War College graduation exercises to reveal details of the carrier program.

He said modernization of the two flattops will cost an estimated $80,000,000 and that the plans will be sent to congress with President Truman's endorsement.

When the two ships are refitted, probably in about 16 months to two years, the Navy will have eight flattops big enough to fly atomic bombers and other heavy aircraft.

COMPENSATION

The new modernization program apparently was intended to compensate the Navy for the loss of its "dream carrier," the 65,000-ton USS United States, which Johnson recently cancelled.

Some defense officials contended the two refitted carriers, both of the 27,000-ton Essex class, together would pack 60 percent more punch than the giant United States. But they could not handle as many big planes.

The $80,000,000 modernization project involves strengthening carrier flight decks to withstand terrific strain of the big bomber operations, and increasing size of catapults and elevators.

Johnson said cost of the work will come out of money saved by cancelling the super-carrier, although work still must be approved by congress.

FOUL BUNT FOOLING FRACTURES

SANTA MONICA, Calif., June 21.—(AP)—Even an ector knows it's silly to slide into first base, particularly on a foul bunt. In fact, it's against the rules.

But there weren't any rules at a motion picture benefit ball game in Los Angeles and Ronald Reagan—a former sports announcer—was doing his best to gag things for the crowd. He slid into first.

They carried him off with what seemed to be a sprained ankle. Yesterday his doctor announced it was a multiple fracture of the right thigh. He said Reagan, 37, would be in hospital at least six weeks.

Halifax Fetes Bicentenary

HALIFAX, June 21.—(CP)—This old, grey port forgot the scars of war, explosion and riot today and launched into a rip-roaring birthday party to mark its bi-centenary.

Two centuries have not been easy ones for Halifax, but they have never been dull. It has known Indian raids, press-gangs, depressions and epidemics. It has been ripped apart by an explosion in 1917 that killed thousands. Its back has been almost broken by the strain of two world wars.

Halifax's history is the story of ships and the men who man them.

Today, the city's 90,000 inhabitants began what will be probably the longest birthday party in Canada. It's going to last three months.

A 21-gun salute crashed out from Fort George atop Citadel Hill to start off the proceedings officially. A five-mile-long parade wound through the city's narrow streets. Taking the salute was Lord Cornwallis, descendant of the Edward Cornwallis who founded Halifax 200 years ago today.

TCA Personnel Search For Dog Near Goose Bay

MONTREAL, June 21.—(CP) — Mandy, a small mongrel dog being flown from London to Vancouver, today was on the loose somewhere near the Goose Bay, Labrador, air base with a price on her head and goodly number of the air station personnel looking for her.

Trans-Canada Airlines officials said the dog, consigned to Dr. Z. Urbanek of Vancouver, escaped last night when the plane bringing her to Canada set down at Goose Bay.

The TCA station manager immediately offered a reward and the dog hunt was on.

Among officers presiding is W. H. Brett of Vancouver, Deputy Grand Master.
